JAP HATRED OF BAN IS GROWING

Tokio Is Storm Center of Heated Demonstrations Against Americans

TOKIO, June 9.—Anti-American feeling continues serious in Japan today. Popular indignation at the United States exclusion act barring Japanese immigrants from America is at a high pitch and demonstrations of a retaliatory nature are taking place in the larger cities of the empire.

Tokio, however, seems to be the storm center of patriotic activities denouncing the American law.

Threats are heard from scores of members of the Young Men's Great Forward association, a semi-political organization, visited the Ginza Japanese Methodist church in Tokio last night and demanded that the Japanese bishop take immediate action to force American missionaries out of the country.

Another demonstration took place in Tokio last night when a hostile crowd of Japanese citizens gathered around an automobile bearing an American embassy license plate, parked outside of the Yotsuya moving picture house, and urged the Japanese chauffeur to leave his American employment.

Fully fifty infuriated Japanese threatened dire results to the driver if he should not heed their warning.

Call Off Dances
The Saturday night dances at the Tokio Imperial hotel, a weekly social event attended by a mass by the foreign colony of the capital, have been discontinued by the hotel management at the request of the Japanese Young Men's Christian association.

A guard was placed about the Imperial hotel today, where rumors broke up a dance Saturday night and police announced such future demonstrations would meet "fullest punishment."

PUBLIC HEARING ON WILSON PLAN
Commissioners Meet Tonight To Hear Arguments on Widening Avenue

A public hearing on the proposed plan to widen Wilson avenue from San Fernando road to the Eagle Rock city limits will be held by the City Planning commission at the city hall tonight.

Although the commission meets at 7:30 o'clock, minor matters will be disposed of first, and the hearing will start promptly at 8 o'clock, according to T. W. Watson, president of the commission.

Plans prepared by Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, at the request of the commissioners, who were asked to take the initial step by the property owners, provide for a seventy foot street throughout the entire city, with a fifty foot roadway between curbs.

He recommends that where an additional ten feet is needed, five feet be condemned on each side of the street, and where twenty feet is needed to make the street a uniform width, ten feet be taken from each side.

Hear All Sides
The commission will give audience to all who are interested in the matter," said Mr. Watson this morning.

"We are not trying to put anything over on the people. Our action was taken at the request of the property owners. We want to hear both sides of the question discussed, if there are two sides.

"The recommendations of the city engineer at least give us something definite to work on, and we should be able to reach an amicable settlement."

No Bonus Funds Till Congress Re-Convenes
WASHINGTON, June 9.—No additional funds for the administration of the soldiers' bonus law will be available until Congress meets again in December, it was announced here today, following a conference at the White House between President Coolidge and Director of the Budget Lord.

Convention Delegates Insist Lowden In Race

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Republican leaders in Cleveland did not take kindly to Frank O. Lowden's persistent effort to eliminate himself as a vice-presidential candidate.

The leaders of the Lowden movement—and they included some of the most powerful personalities in the party—after talking it over this morning decided that still another effort will be made to nominate Lowden with his consent.

They even went further and talked of nominating Lowden anyway, proceeding on the theory that no man nominated by a national convention ever turned it down after the thing was once accomplished.

The resumption of the drift in the ranks of the national committee, and later in the day it was understood that some of Governor Lowden's closest friends, both in Illinois and Washington, would endeavor to get in touch with him by telephone and persuade him to change his mind.

Lowden today was reported to be at Oxford, Ohio, pursuing his customary vocation of addressing mid-western audiences on his favorite theme—co-operative marketing for farmers, a vocation that is

Lowden Stands Firm In Refusal to Run
OXFORD, Ohio, June 9.—"My statement made last night is final and conclusive," said Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, here this afternoon, referring to repeated efforts to "draft" him as a Republican vice-presidential candidate, despite his refusal to give up his present work.

It was reported that a delegation from Washington and Cleveland, composed of prominent Republicans, was en route here to induce him to reconsider.

"I have not been advised of the coming of a delegation, and, if there is one, it will do no good. I will not accept the nomination," he said.

ASK CONVENTION SUPPORT DRY LAW
Club Women Send Message To Cleveland Gathering From Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The Republican national convention in Cleveland will be asked by America's club women to embody in its platform a clause supporting the eighteenth amendment.

Officers of the General Federation of Women's clubs in biennial session here, announced today that a message asking the Republicans to support legislation that will carry out both the spirit and letter of the prohibition amendment will be dispatched at once.

A resolution asking both the Democratic and Republican conventions to include in their platforms a provision favoring enforcement of the United States into a world court was introduced at the club biennial sessions today, but action will not be taken until tomorrow.

Featuring today's sessions was an address by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, famous suffrage worker. She asked all women's organizations to agree on a practical plan for world peace.

SUE TO RECOVER WOMEN'S ALLIANCE
Allege Seizure Results In Putting Organization To Money Making Ends

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Alleging that the present force constituting the Women's Vocational Alliance, Inc., had seized the business from a non-profit association of prominent civic and social workers, a suit was filed today in superior court to divest the former of their power and return the business to the members who have entered suit.

Inez S. Smith, Grace Stoermer, J. Frances Emans, Lloy Galpin, May Carvell, Jane C. Humphreys, Orabel Chilton, Caroline P. Oliver, Florence E. Shindler and Caroline R. Kellogg are the plaintiffs.

The purpose of the alliance, according to the complaint, is to secure employment for girls free of charge. By incorporation the defendants are alleged to have put the proposition on a money-making basis, it is set forth.

COMMITTS SUICIDE
LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The body of a man, believed to be Emil Zorich was found hanging by passing motorists in a pepper tree here today. The man committed suicide, according to police who investigated.

CONGRESS FAILURE TO PASS MEASURES HALTS TAX REFUND
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Due to the failure of Congress to act upon the necessary appropriations before adjournment, refund to taxpayers who have paid all their 1923 income tax cannot be made before next winter, it was announced at the treasury department today.

Secretary Mellon had asked an appropriation of $16,000,000 for this purpose, but it was carried in a bill which failed to pass. The refunds were authorized under the new tax law, which reduced this year's income taxes 25 per cent.

HEAVY FIELD EXPECTED IN RACE NOMINATION NOW BEING AWAITED

Lowden's Withdrawal Drops Bars In Contest for Vice Presidency

BULLETIN
CLEVELAND, June 9.—An eleventh-hour attempt to have Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, reconsider his decision not to become a running mate with President Coolidge was made this morning.

Prominent administration leaders here have telegraphed to Lowden who is said to be favorably listening to their pleadings.

CLEVELAND, June 9.—The barriers went down today in the Republican vice presidential sweepstakes and the contest for this—the only nomination prize the national convention has at its disposal—became a free-for-all in a field crowded with candidates.

The self-effacement of Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois, who had more strength with the delegates and leaders than any other candidate, caused no end of confusion on the eve of the meeting.

Doubt Lowden's Answer
"Does he mean it?" and "Is it final?" were questions that were being asked everywhere about crowded hotel lobbies, after the complete statement of the former governor became common property.

The belief prevailed generally that the governor did mean it. Consequently after numerous long distance telephone conversations, most of the Lowden people were busily engaged today in looking for some place to go.

They found no common ground in support of any other candidate, and despite numerous night conferences it appeared today that the so-called Lowden strength will be split up among many of the dozen old names that will figure in the early balloting.

Western Delegates Busy
The delegates are frankly looking for guidance and thus far there has been none. On the top-most floor of the Hotel Cleveland, William H. Burton, former U. S. senator and others from the White House entourage, hold forth, shaking hands and listening gravely to the advancement of rival claims. They blandly assure questioners the White House

LAUNDRY WORKERS HOLD BIG PICNIC
Members of Premier Welfare Association Enjoy Day At Brookside Park

Members of the Premier Laundry Welfare association and their families enjoyed an all day outing at Brookside park Sunday, when that organization held its first annual picnic at the Pasadena community park. Nearly 100 people made up the party which departed from Glendale in twenty automobiles at 9:30 in the morning.

The association is made up of the heads of departments in the Premier laundry that have organized for social and business purposes. Entertainments of varied nature are arranged at regular periods to promote closer relationship between the employees besides the regular business meetings.

Each of the cars driven to the park on Sunday carried a banner with the name of the concern displayed and every member of the party wore a badge. Swimming in the big open pool and other amusements provided at the park were the principal form of entertainment during the morning. An elaborate picnic dinner was served at noon.

After dinner the party attended the baseball game between the Glendale White Sox and Pasadena Merchants, which the Glendale outfit won by a score of 9 to 4. The return trip to this city was made at 6 o'clock.

Glendale Woman Files Divorce Suit In L. A.
LOS ANGELES, June 9.—When Elbie Hanson took occasion to beat up his wife in Glendale on March 1 it was the last straw in their matrimonial disagreements, according to numerous allegations of cruelty which she sets forth in a divorce complaint filed today in superior court. She now resides at Huntington Beach, with relatives.

Fairy Hanson—for that is the wife's name—states her husband is a musician, earning $70 to $100 a week. She asks that he contribute $25 weekly to the support of their two children, Wanda and Melvin. The couple were married in Fargo, N. D., May 31, 1911.

To Nominate Coolidge

A close friendship dating back a number of years was responsible for the selection of DR. MARION LEROY BURTON for the honor of placing the name of Calvin Coolidge in nomination in the Republican convention in Cleveland. Dr. Burton is president of the University of Michigan. It is said that Coolidge has a preference for Dr. Burton for the vice president, Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church of Glendale, was Dr. Burton's room-mate at college and is a close personal friend.

LAUNDRY OFFICE SAFE IS ROBBED

Obtain $450 and Valuable Papers of Firm; Clues Are Lacking

Bandits, forcing their way into the office of the Glendale Laundry at Arden and Columbus avenues some time Friday night, blew open the safe and escaped with $450 in cash and checks, as well as many valuable papers belonging to the company which were stored in the safe. The robbery was made public this morning after efforts by the local and Los Angeles police and deputies from the sheriff's office had failed to locate the robbers.

Captain W. A. Loving, who investigated the robbery, stated that it was evidently the work of professional safe-blowers, presumably from Los Angeles.

Although a minute search was made of the premises, not a finger print could be obtained, indicating that the bandits wore gloves at all times. Everything in the safe, including company records, was taken, so the police have no clue to the identity of the robbers that is sometimes furnished by what they take and what they leave.

The robbery was not discovered until the laundry was opened Saturday morning. J. F. Springer, president and manager of the laundry, said that the safe contained about $250 in cash and $200 in checks. Insurance papers, deeds and other valuable documents are missing.

Fall from forever holding office again, denounced the Mellon plan of tax reduction and demanded that President Coolidge summon Congress to a special session. The resolutions will be presented to the convention.

Smith of Fresno was named for the resolutions committee; J. W. S. Butler of Sacramento was picked as chairman of the delegation. CLEVELAND, June 9.—Governmental economy will be the dominant issue in the Republican platform which President Coolidge carries to the nation next November.

Although other domestic as well as foreign issues will be aired, it was definitely learned today the president has had the platform drafted with administrative thrift as its keynote. It will redound throughout with tributes to the administration's record of federal economies.

President Approves
The completed platform literally reached Cleveland today with the arrival of C. Bascom Slem, secretary to the president. Slem was said to have left Washington with it after the president put his approval on the final draft.

Despite the chief executive's support the document was certain to produce a series of quarrels with the convention. In the end it was considered as certain the president would win out on every contested plank. Among the articles certain to provoke opposition were the following:

1 To endorse the Harding-Hughes world court.

2 His opposition to adjusted compensation for world war veterans, and

3 His avowed opposition to any federal financial relief for distressed agriculture.

Social Events

Women's Law Club

The Parliamentary Law club met at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the Glendale public library, when the study of "On Committee" was discussed, with the president, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, in charge. This study will be continued at the next meeting of the club.

Because the members are deriving so much benefit from the meetings it was unanimously decided to continue throughout the summer instead of disbanding until fall, as has been the custom. The majority of the forty-six members are either newly elected officers of some organization or Parent-Teacher association or have served during the past year as officers.

Mrs. R. N. Stryker, who has recently been elected president of the Acacia avenue Parent-Teacher association was presented with a beautiful bouquet of carnations from the Parliamentary Law club members.

A special feature of the meeting was the reading of a letter received recently from Mrs. Thayer, a former Glendelian who is now making her home in Geneva, Iowa. Mrs. Thayer was formerly a member of the club which frequently receives friendly letters from her.

SHOW LLOYD FILM AT HIGH SCHOOL

'Safety First' Is Chosen in Line with Policy of Selecting Best

In keeping with the policy of showing only the best pictures obtainable, the feature picture, "Safety Last," starring Harold Lloyd, was shown this afternoon in the auditorium of the Broadway High school. This was the second pay assembly in which films of feature length have been presented to the student body.

The pictures are being shown frequently to raise funds to pay for the elaborate projection equipment that was installed in the auditorium. Two picture machines were purchased which are equal in most respects to the equipment of the average motion picture house.

Why I Am In Glendale

My first trip west, in 1921, brought me to this ideal spot—"Glendale." First the hills and mountains appealed to me; then the atmosphere of friendliness among the people, the co-operation of the business firms, which all helps make a town grow.

I went to several other places, but thoughts of Glendale remained with me.

Although I went back East, it was only for a short time, and now I am only too glad to have a home in the fastest growing town in America.

CHIEF INSPECTS NEW FIRE ALARM

Lankford Looks Over System in Use at Santa Ana;
May Install Here

Friday afternoon, Fire Chief Lankford and City Manager Stone visited the city of Santa Ana for the purpose of looking over the new fire alarm system that has recently been installed in that city. An inspected the complete equipment now in operation there.

Chief Lankford states that the Gamewell system which the Santa Ana officials selected would prove very satisfactory if installed here. He points out that Santa Ana, a city of only 28,000 population has installed a modern alarm system while the city of Glendale is still depending on the telephone system as the only means of turning in alarms.

If the alarm boxes were installed they would adequately protect sections of the city where there are few telephones, such as the Grand View and other outlying districts. The system used at Santa Ana is made up of eight circuits through as many sections of the city, Chief Lankford says. The Glendale system is still depending on the telephone outfit, except that it would be necessary to have several more circuits to properly cover the area within the city limits.

Each Circuit Separate
 He explains that operation of the alarm boxes as being similar to those used in all large cities throughout the United States at the present time. When the glass is broken, alarms are automatically rung at all stations and the time and date registered. Each circuit is a separate unit and in case of a ground in one circuit the others are unaffected.

The installation of a fire alarm system is one of the proposed civic improvements now being considered by the city council, and will be taken up by the citizens' bond committee which the council has been authorized to appoint.

LARGE CROWDS IN BIG BEAR VALLEY

Demand for Camp Sites and Camps Increased, Says
G. H. Phelps

The largest crowds in the history of Big Bear valley are being registered this season and hundreds of motorists could not find accommodations over the Decoration day week-end, reports G. H. Phelps of 249 North Brand boulevard, Glendale agent for Big Bear Pines.

Mr. Phelps left Saturday to look over development work on this tract, which still offers some fine tracts at $225, on very easy terms, he states. With several routes now open and the roads better than ever before, it appears that the Big Bear country is at last becoming the playground of the general public.

On his last trip, Mr. Phelps reports that he found the valley one joyful, smiling through, automobiles everywhere and the demand for camps and camp-sites greater than ever before, while the fishing was the best ever, two eight-pounders being among the catch.

The run can be made in from four to five hours, according to Mr. Phelps.

WED FIFTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, NOW LIVING IN CITY

Couple Finds Happiness in Glendale as Relatives
Gather at Home

Glendale is the most delightful spot in the world in which to celebrate over a half century of happiness together, is the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reynolds of 139 North Belmont street.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were married 55 years ago in Pennsylvania, and it was Mr. Reynolds' happy experience to live for 74 years in the old homestead where he was born. This old home place is in Harmony, Pa., and it was there that Mr. Reynolds took his wife as a bride.

Four years ago they decided to come to California to make their home in "The Fastest Growing City in America."

Relatives Gather
 Just to remind them that their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary was on Saturday, May 31, a group of twenty-four relatives and friends arrived unexpectedly at their home that day. A delightful informal social time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds have three sons, W. H. and D. F. Reynolds of Glendale, and M. A. Reynolds of New York. They have six grand-children.

Sharing in the happiness of the anniversary celebration were Mr. Reynolds' brother and sister, Albert Reynolds and Julia R. Beers, both of Glendale.

City In America

Glendale was included in the itinerary of the 200 or more biennial delegates, who motored through San Fernando valley Saturday afternoon, and, during the half-hour stop at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, the guests were unanimous in declaring that "The Fastest Growing City in the United States" has one of the most beautiful clubhouses in America.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president; the board of directors, chairmen of committees, and curators of departments, both for the past year and those chosen for the coming year, were members of the reception committee from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Receiving with the clubwomen were W. E. Hewitt and E. F. Sanders, president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. After being shown over the clubhouse, enjoying lunch served in the palm court by the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, the guests were asked to sign the guest book.

Before departing each woman was presented with a Tuesday Afternoon club year book and a booklet on the charms of Glendale.

HIGH SCHOOL IN THROES OF KEEN ELECTION FIGHT

Student Body Will Vote on Officers for Coming Semester Today

Glendale Union High school is today in the midst of a miniature political campaign that promises to be quite as hot as that occupying the minds of older heads at the present time. Tomorrow the students elect the officers that will guide them through the first semester of next year.

Assemblies were held at both the Broadway and Harvard street high schools this morning to allow the candidates for student body offices to give campaign speeches and their records outlined to the voters. Ten positions on the cabinet, the governing body of the student self-government system, will be filled.

Two Candidates
 The highest honor bestowed upon a student by his fellows, is that of student body president. Leslie Lavelle and Morian Morrison are the two popular boys that have been nominated for this position. Both played upon the championship football team this year and have been prominent in school activities. It is predicted that the vote will be close.

Next in importance to the office of president is the office of secretary of assemblies, whose duty it is to secure assemblies for the entertainment of the student body. The five candidates for this office are Barbara Kranz, Elsie Forsyth, Hendrik Van Rensselaer, Dante La Franchi and Henry Grace.

Others in Race
 The other offices and candidates are as follows: secretary of publications, Jack Finch and Lee Osborne; secretary of debating, Bonnie Jean Lockwood and Fred Falls; secretary of girls' athletics, Betty Mabery and Mary Barbara Taylor; secretary of boys' athletics, William Montgomery and William Bradbury; secretary of finance, Spencer Jewell, secretary of state, Irene Geib and Clarice Dinsmore.

The offices of secretary of boys and secretary of girls will be held at special meeting of the boy's and girl's leagues at some future date. The two candidates for yell leader are Bill Kirk and Dick Brown.

Florida, Montana and Colorado delegates are all busy supporting their candidates for the presidency, and there is equally as ardent enthusiasm among the candidates and supporters for other officers.

Tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock the nominating committee is to go into session, and at the morning session of the convention this committee will be heard at 12:15 o'clock in report.

Resolutions Report
 The regular session of the convention tomorrow morning will begin at 9 o'clock. It will be featured by the second report of the resolutions committee. After convention business is dispensed with, the meeting will be devoted to activities of the department of public welfare.

At noon the department of public welfare will have a luncheon at the Biltmore theatre.

Public Welfare
 Public welfare will be taken up as the topic for the afternoon session, with speakers of national reputation.

TEAMS SELECTED IN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE BY POST

Legion Organization Starts Intensive Campaign to Increase Number

Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion starts an intensive membership drive this morning, under the direction of E. E. McWain, adjutant. The roster of the post has been divided into two teams, one captained by First Vice-Commander W. H. Regelin and the other by Second Vice-Commander E. W. Gilliland.

There will be appropriate prizes given each week to the members securing the greatest number of applications, and it is planned to place a booth in the downtown section of the city in charge of the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary where application blanks may be filled out.

"Now that the fight for adjusted compensation, commonly called the 'bonus,' is out of the way," said Adjutant McWain this morning, "the American Legion and especially Glendale post, will carry on in its fight for the three other planks in its platform—rehabilitation, hospitalization and Americanization. The first concern of the American Legion, and always will be, is the care of the disabled buddy. Much has been accomplished but much remains to be done."

Invite Service Men

"An enlarged membership will help us in our work, and we extend a cordial invitation to all ex-service men who have never been or are not now members of the Legion, to join the Glendale post, and give a hand in our broad program of guidance and help for the disabled buddies and the children orphaned by the war. "There are still many willing ex-service men walking the streets looking for employment. There is still a service to our country, as great in peace as in war."

An Unusual ANNOUNCEMENT

APPROXIMATELY $50,000 worth of most desirable home furnishings, carefully selected in the world's greatest markets, is placed on sale this week, June 9 to 14, at reductions of 25 to 50 per cent for cash.

The reason for this unusual offer is that we are overstocked at this time and desire to turn this amount of furniture into cash during this week.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

YOUR BITTEREST FOE—

Never understands a good-natured reply.
Is at a disadvantage as long as you hold your temper.
Is often as sincere and mistaken as you are.
Is sometimes your most constructive critic.
May attack your reputation, but cannot hurt your character.
Doesn't hurt you as much as your own bitterness of spirit.

PROPAGANDA IS INSIDIOUS

Propaganda, as fathered and fostered by the war, is one of the most insidious influences that ever permeated our civilization. It is a high-sounding term used where the "short and ugly word" would be more appropriate, for propaganda, as practiced today, is neither more nor less than lying. And those who perpetuate it are so crafty and so treacherous that we cannot distinguish their lying from the truth.

Sometimes the plain truth is labeled propaganda and real propaganda is often mistaken for the truth. Then there is propaganda about propaganda, carrying the question into so many different channels that it is impossible ever to get at the truth.

Especially is propaganda becoming so universally used and carried into so many ramifications in politics that it is impossible for the voter, the average man and woman, to learn the truth. Each side tells a different story and each accuses the other of propaganda or a "frame up."

When Senator Wheeler of Montana was attacking and investigating the department of Justice it was brought out that he himself was in every way unfitted to sit in the legislative councils of the nation. Then it was said this was a "frame up" and that nothing had been proved against the Senator. How are we to know how much of this is propaganda and how much is the truth? Some will believe one thing of him, some another. It is hoped the people in his own district know what kind of a man he is.

Now the story is being told that the Los Angeles aqueduct was dynamited to further the Boulder Dam project. It is said the Owens Valley people are not vindictive against the city of Los Angeles and the dynamiting was a ruse to make the people of Los Angeles believe that the loss of their water supply from the Owens river is possible and imminent, in order that they may favor the Boulder dam project. This may be true and it may be propaganda. How are we to know?

Propaganda is a dangerous influence. There ought to be a law "agin" it.

VOTE FOR PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY

The people of Los Angeles county and city are not feeling the pinch of hard times and poverty to any great extent the way they are voting bonds for different projects. On May 6 the county voted $35,300,000 for flood control and Los Angeles city voted more than $11,500,000 for various purposes, including $8,000,000 for water, $1,600,000 for police, $1,000,000 for bridges and $1,000,000 for incinerators and fire boat. On May 8 the city of Long Beach authorized $5,000,000 for harbor development. The city of Los Angeles again on June 3 voted almost unanimously to bond themselves to the extent of $34,600,000 for school purposes.

Glendale, not so long ago, voted $1,600,000 bonds for a sewer system. On July 8 we shall vote $47,000 for our libraries, and it is possible that we shall be asked to vote school bonds again in the near future.

The projects mentioned above involve a total of more than $88,000,000. This work alone will keep industry on the hum in Los Angeles county and furnish employment for thousands of people. It was well that the voters were not stampeded by the cry of hard times and the need of economy. Progress and good times are assured by the development of these projects.

THAT CHAIN LETTER

The eighth round of a "chain letter," providing every person took this piece of superstitious clap-trap seriously, would result in 4,000,000 letters dumped into the mail, costing over $95,000 in postage, to say nothing of a vast amount of labor.

Everyone has at some time or another been appealed to by a communication promising good luck if sent out to nine other persons within twenty-four hours, and the reverse if ignored. How any intelligent person in the twentieth century can be intimidated into wasting his time on chain letters is a mystery alongside which the riddle of the Sphinx is a mere child's puzzle.

Recognizing that such letters are a waste of time and money, a postal encumbrance, a stupid appeal to false sentiment and in many other ways perniciously useless, the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce is spending good money to urge that all such communications be at once filed away where they belong—in the wastebasket.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Campaign funds, like death and taxes, are always with us. A campaign committee never thinks it has enough money. The public always thinks it has too much.

Corporations may not contribute to campaign chests, by reason of federal and state laws, but no laws can prevent such contributions coming through corporations, from private parties. And large gifts are unquestionably against public policy, but where is the limit set?

Senator Borah has a new plan, which, like lots of other plans would work if it worked. He proposes that sources of campaign money must be published before election, at ten-day periods. The plan has been approved by the Senate. But, like other plans for checking the oft-heard charge of bought elections, such a remedy will cure that precocious child Politics only if scrupulously administered.

THE CHARM OF SPOKEN DRAMA

The motion picture is one of the wonders of the century. Picture producers themselves say the art is in its infancy and everyone admits there is no limit to the possibilities in developing "the movies." But there is a fascination about the spoken drama that the pictures can never have. A Glendale woman voiced this truth when she said she had seen Elliott Dexter a number of times on the screen and had never given any thought to his work. When she saw him in a little sketch on the stage of a Los Angeles vaudeville theatre she was charmed with his personality and the magnetism of his voice and presence. There are many people who feel the same way, and the revival, everywhere, of the legitimate theatre comes as an answer to the demands of the public. It is a feather in the cap of Glendale that we are to have an opportunity to see real artists and hear the best of drama.

We had no idea there were so many important people in the world until glancing over a copy of Who's Who.

There are twins' beds and twin beds—and there's a difference!

THE BUR UNDER THE SADDLE

A Magician Among the Spirits

By DR. FRANK CRANE

"Kellar turned to him and said: 'What is your name?' 'Jim Mass,' he replied. 'That is not your right name,' Kellar retorted. 'Your right name is James Crosey.' 'It is a lie,' said Mass. 'Oh, no; it is not a lie, for I see before me your name. I see that your father has just died of a broken heart because of your behavior. I see your mother writing to that effect, begging you to come home and be her son again. I see the grave of your father and on the tombstone is inscribed 'James Crosey.'"

"Kellar came out of the trance and Mass sprang up exclaiming: 'My God! You have told me things that only the Almighty and I know.' 'Kellar claimed to Mass that he did not know anything that had transpired in the trance. The following day a letter came from Mass' mother telling him of the death of his father.

"This fully convinced him of Kellar's mediumistic powers, to such an extent that when, a few days later, Kellar told him it was all a fake, Mass refused to believe it.

"Kellar explained to him that while in Manila a few weeks previous he had met an American traveler who knew of the circumstances and had told him all that he had repeated to Mass in the supposed trance."

This is an extract from Harry Houdini's recent book, "A Magician Among the Spirits." It is a book upon which Houdini has concentrated thirty years of his life.

He approaches the subject of spiritualism from a new viewpoint—that of a master magician. Beginning with the Fox Sisters, he discussed in detail the work of all the mediums from 1845 to Sir Conan Doyle today.

Although he has the utmost respect for the honest belief of any person he is the relentless enemy of deliberate fraud.

Whether there be anything in spiritualism or not we will leave the advocates of that faith to discuss.

The gist of the whole matter lies in what Houdini explained to me once at a dinner when he said:

"I do not know of a single trick in spiritualism that I could not perform."

Houdini sums up the whole belief as follows: "Sir Arthur Conan Doyle thinks I have great mediumistic powers and that some of my feats are done with the aid of spirits. Everything I do is accomplished by material means, humanly possible, no matter how baffling it is to the layman. I have no desire to discredit spiritualism; I have no warfare with Sir Arthur; I have no fight with the spiritualists, but I do believe that it is my duty for the betterment of humanity to place frankly before the people the results of my long investigation of spiritualism. So far I have never, on any occasion, in all the seances I have attended, seen anything to make me credit a mediumistic performer with supernatural aid. Nor have I ever seen anything that has convinced me that it is possible to communicate with those who have passed out of this life."

It would seem that the magician is not only to amuse us and entertain us by tricks but that he also does good service to humanity by exposing those who attribute their trickery to supernatural causes.

RAISING ROAD FUNDS

(From Santa Barbara News)

Confronted with the problem of raising some $200,000,000 for the completion of the highway system of California, the highway commission and the advisory committee are busy considering ways and means to raise the required millions.

One of the plans under consideration is the increase of the gasoline tax to a point where it will supply the money as needed. Another suggestion is further bond issues.

Practically all the $40,000,000 bond issue voted for the roads has been used or appropriated for work now under contract. There are miles and miles of roads planned in the highway system which have not been touched. In addition there are many miles of extensions not contemplated in the original plan but just as necessary for the public's convenience.

There is a disposition on the part of highway commissioners and others identified with the state road work to look upon the building of highways as a never-ending job. It is possible that many of the roads contemplated in the present road schemes are not really necessary and when built will not justify the expenditures they entail.

But the people are demanding more and more roads and they will get them. They will also pay the bills. The only question remaining is how shall that payment be made and by whom?

The gasoline tax has proved such a simple and effective way to raise money and collection through this tax has been so economical that the natural tendency is to resort to this tax for more funds.

This tax was devised to provide funds for the maintenance and improvement of the highways. It is reasonable and just to throw upon the users of the roads the burden of their up-keep. The tax was accepted without opposition by the men and women who pay it.

But to widen out this system to cover the construction of roads costing hundreds of millions is an entirely different matter. This plan would throw on the present users of the roads the burden of building for the generations that are to come as well as the support of the present roads.

It hardly seems fair to load on the automobile and truck of today all the cost of the construction of roads which will outlive the present generation.

This matter is now under discussion in the chambers of commerce and other commercial bodies of the state. It will come up for final action in the next legislature, when the problem of tax or bonds to build roads will be settled.

It is probable that the fair and wise course would be an increase of gasoline tax with a road bond proposition to provide for new roads. Increased valuations resulting from improved roads will be an important factor in distributing the burden under the bonds.

DOING BUSINESS

(From Hollywood Citizen)

What became of stocks when the prices go down in the Wall Street market?

People buy them because they think they are a good investment. That's all.

The price paid for the stock does not interfere with the earning power of the corporation, though it may at times be indicative of that earning power.

When we read that the prices of stocks dropped in Wall Street recently because Wall Street did not like the news of the success of the bonus, that shouldn't mean anything more to us than that some people took fright and sold their stocks for possibly a loss, while others, having confidence, bought the stocks sold at a price that they believe will yield them a profit.

In the meantime, the management of the corporations whose stocks are offered continue on in their usual course of striving for profits.

The corporations won't go to pieces until American business ability, initiative and effort fail. You may imagine that day if you will.

We can't.

The People —of— Anytown Character Sketches

How many of us older people look back on those who taught us in our childhood with love and veneration. I often think of Miss Alice Smith, who taught the primary class in the Anytown school for nearly forty years. She taught us, she taught our children and, in a few cases, she taught our grandchildren. She went into our school in her youth; she was an old woman when ill health forced her to retire.

Miss Smith could not have been handsome, even when she was young. When I first became her pupil her hair was tinged with gray, and I know now that she was not what is known as attractive, but to us children she was the loveliest thing in the world. She loved us and took an interest in all our childish troubles and our little pleasures. She knew nothing of modern kindergarten methods, but she taught us many games and songs and drills, and never let us get tired in school hours. Our lessons were not a secondary consideration, either, and she drilled us thoroughly in the first reader, in spelling, writing and "numbers." I can still see her large mouth spread to form the vowels while teaching us how to sound them.

Nothing is so plastic as the mind of a child at the age when it first goes to school. Miss Smith knew this and she was conscientious in trying to mold our minds in the right way. She taught us the three "R's," but she didn't stop there. She tried to instill in us the highest principles and even at the early age she made us acquainted with the lives of great men and taught us what qualities are necessary for greatness. To this day I have ideals of which I am proud that I can trace to her teaching. Miss Smith taught us courtesy, too. Every Friday afternoon we had "exercises," and those of us who wished spoke "pieces." On these occasions she would call boys and girls to the platform and ask them to behave as ladies and gentlemen should when meeting under certain circumstances and conditions. Some of the things she taught us are old fashioned now, but courtesy is always courtesy.

A girl today would think she was throwing her life away to spend it in a schoolroom in a small place like Anytown. But this all depends on the point of view. Miss Smith had an opportunity that comes to few and she used it conscientiously and well. The minister, the missionary, the lecturer, the editor—none have the opportunity to do good that comes to the one who teaches the young. There is no obligation so great as that which rests upon the teacher. The man or woman who cannot look back to such a tie as existed between Miss Smith and the children of Anytown for two generations have missed something in life. The world never heard of Miss Smith, and yet there are those in many corners of the earth who loved her and cherished her memory in their hearts as they do the memory of their mothers.

Worth While Verse

CROSSED HEART

For sake of wind out of the south,
For sake of all the lean birds lost
In rhythm of their own long flying,
And for the sake of your hurt mouth
Closed forever on its crying,
Let your heart be crossed.

If you will lift a hand to make
A double motion, quick like breath,
Over your heart's uneven throbbing,
You will have done a thing for sake
Of that for which there is no sobbing,
Nor any hush of death.

Fearing the dazzle in your eyes,
Moments that wear you thin as moon
And make you exquisite with sighing,
Lay on your heart this light device,
Lest for that which knows no dying
You be dead too soon.

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story so far:

Mrs. Pitman, who tells the story, ran away from home to marry, and was never reconciled to her old Pittsburgh family, although she returned to her home town to live after she became a widow. She kept boarders in what was then lower Allegheny, where, because there were floods every year, rents were cheap. One March there was an unusually high flood. Miss Jennie Brice, as she was known on the stage, was having an unusually quarrelsome time with her husband, Mr. Ladley. Mrs. Pitman overheard them talking with a man, and Miss Brice said, "That's all very well, but what about that prying shrew, that runs the house?" That night the water rose high and in the middle of the night another boarder, Mr. Reynolds, woke Mrs. Pitman to say somebody had just rowed away in the boat she had tied to the stairs in the lower hall. Mrs. Pitman later saw Mr. Ladley returning. He said he had been out for medicine for his wife, Peter, the dog, finds a slipper of Mrs. Ladley's floating in the parlor and later a big knife of Mrs. Pitman's, with the blade broken. Mr. Ladley offers to pay Mrs. Pitman for a pillow slip he says was burned with a cigarette, and says his wife really was not ill, but went away in the night. A benevolent old gentleman, rowing around to feed stranded animals, stops at Mrs. Pitman's and offers to help her. His name is Holcombe. They discover that an onyx clock from the mantelpiece in Ladley's room is missing. They also find a blood-stained towel. Mr. Howells, a young newspaper man, comes to help Holcombe. Mrs. Pitman finds a slip of paper on which is written, "Rope, knife, shoe, towel, Horn—" Lida Harvey, Mrs. Pitman's niece, who has never been seen, comes to the house with Howells.

Today's installment

XIII—THE WET FUR COAT

I could not see any reason for objecting to Mr. Holcombe's wish to spend the night in the Ladleys' room, although I thought it silly and useless. I led the way to the front room. Mr. Holcombe following with his shoes and suit case. I lighted a lamp and he stood looking around him.

"I see you have been here since we left this afternoon," he said. "Twice," I replied. "First with Mr. Graves and later—"

The words died on my tongue. Someone had been in the room since my last visit there.

"He has been here!" I gasped. "I left the room in tolerable order. Look at it!"

"When were you here last?"

"At 7:30, or thereabouts."

"Where were you between 7:30 and 8:30?"

"In the kitchen with Peter." I told him then about the dog and about finding him shut in the room.

The washstand was pulled out. The sheets of Mr. Ladley's manuscript, usually an orderly pile, were half on the floor. The bed coverings had been jerked off and flung over the back of a chair. Peter, imprisoned, might have moved the washstand and upset the manuscript—Peter had never put the bed clothing over the chair or broken his own leg.

"Humph!" he said, and getting out his notebook he made an exact memorandum of what I had told him and of the condition of the room. That done, he turned to me.

"Mrs. Pitman," he said, "I'll thank you to call me Mr. Ladley for the next day or so. I am an actor out of employment, 41 years of age, short, stout and bald, married to a woman I would like to be quit of and am writing myself play in which the Shuberts intend to star me, or in which I intend the Shuberts to star me."

"Very well, Mr. Ladley," I said, trying to enter into the spirit of the thing, and, God knows, seeing no humor in it, "Then you'll like your soda from the icebox?"

"Soda? For what?"

"For your whisky and soda, before you go to bed, sir."

"Oh, certainly, yes. Bring the soda. And—just a moment, Mrs. Pitman: Mr. Holcombe is a total abstainer, and has always been so. It is Ladley, not Holcombe, who takes this abominable stuff."

I said I quite understood, but that Mr. Ladley could skip a night, if he so wished. But the little gentleman would not hear to it, any where I brought the soda, poured himself a double portion. He stood looking at it, with his face screwed up, as if the very odor revolted him.

"The chances are," he said, "that Ladley—that I—having a nasty piece of work to do during the night, would—will take a larger drink than usual."

He raised the glass only to put it down. "Don't forget," he said, "to put a large knife where you left the one last night. I'm sorry the water has gone down, but I shall imagine it still at the seventh step. Good night, Mrs. Pitman."

"Good night, Mr. Ladley," I said, smiling, "and remember, you are three weeks in arrears with your board."

His eyes twinkled through his spectacles. "I shall imagine it paid," he said.

I went out and I heard him close the door behind me. Then, through the door, I heard a great spluttering and coughing, and I knew he had got the whisky down somehow. I put the knife out, as he had asked me to, and went to bed. I was ready to drop. Not even the knowledge that an imaginary Mr. Ladley was about to commit an imaginary crime in the house that night could keep me awake.

Mr. Reynolds came in at 11 o'clock. I was roused when he banged his door. That was all I knew until morning. The sun on my face wakened me. Peter, in his basket, lifted his head as I moved and thumped his tail against his pillow in greeting. I put on a wrapper and called Mr. Reynolds by knocking at his door. Then I went on to the front room. The door was closed and someone beyond was groaning. My heart stood still, and then raced on. I opened the door and looked in.

Mr. Holcombe was on the bed, fully dressed. He had a wet towel tied around his head and his face looked swollen and puffy. He opened one eye and looked at me. "What a night!" he groaned.

"What happened? What did you find?"

He groaned again. "Find!" he said. "Nothing except that there was something wrong with that whisky. It poisoned me. I haven't been out of the house!"

So for that day, at least, Mr. Ladley became Mr. Holcombe again. And as such accepted ice in quantities, a mustard plaster over his stomach and considerable nursing. By evening he was better, but, although he clearly intended to stay on, he said nothing about changing his identity again, and I was glad enough. The very name of Ladley was horrible to me.

The river went down almost entirely that day, although there was still considerable water in the cellars. It takes time to get rid of that. The lower floors showed nothing suspicious. The papers were ruined, of course, the doors warped and sprung and the floors coated with mud and debris. Terry came in the afternoon and together we hung the dining room rug out to dry in the sun.

As I was coming in I looked over at the Maguire yard. Molly Maguire was there and all her children around her, gazing. Molly was hanging out to dry a sodden fur coat that had once been striped, brown and gray.

I went over after breakfast and claimed the coat as belonging to Mrs. Ladley. But she refused to give it up. There is a sort of unwritten law concerning the salvage of flood articles and I had to leave the coat, as I had my kitchen chair. But it was Mrs. Ladley's, beyond a doubt.

I shuddered when I thought how it had probably got into the water. And yet it was curious, too, for, if she had had it on, how did it get loose to go floating around Molly Maguire's yard? And if she had not worn it, how did it get in the water?

Horoscope

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Venus is in malefic aspect, according to astrology, and so this is read as an unfortunate day, for Saturn is adverse.

Women should be especially careful in all their affairs at this time, for they will probably find much reactionary influence active against them.

Politics may be especially disappointing to women today, for they must meet with distinct opposition, if the stars are read aright.

All the signs appear to indicate masculine irascibility toward women in public affairs and an inclination to deceive them by giving them the illusion of importance without any power.

The signs are rather threatening to dealers in the most costly merchandise, and jewelers, in particular, as the stars indicate that their business will be exceedingly careful in business.

The aged today should take a special care of the health and combat all depressing thoughts, since Saturn frowns on them.

This is held as a lucky date for public entertainments of every kind, and should be auspicious for big meetings.

Business unions formed this month should be fairly fortunate if they are for any form of service. Hence partnerships in hotels, restaurants and transportation companies should be lucky.

The church in England is to come into some sort of disfavor with a part of the people, it is prognosticated, and the clergy may suffer much anxiety.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect rather a strenuous year, but they have great possibilities of success.

Children born on this day may meet with many ups and downs in life. These subjects of Gemini usually have a variety of talents and so find difficulty in choosing their vocations.

A gourd with a narrow opening and filled with sugar will often prove a most effective trap for the monkey called the sal, for, once starting to eat the sweet stuff, he will be taken captive rather than leave the delicacy.

BOUQUET ADORNS NEWS OFFICE AS GIFT OF READER

E. S. Calvert Sends Flowers To Mark Opening of Paper's New Home

The Glendale Evening News is holding "open house" all this week, and the first person to send flowers in recognition of this occasion was E. S. Calvert of 819 East Elk street, who this morning honored A. T. Cowan, editor and publisher, with a huge bouquet of Canterbury bells.

There is a special charm to these flowers, for they were grown in Glendale in the garden of a reader of The Evening News. Mr. Calvert's home has a 100-foot frontage on East Elk street, and his elaborately developed gardens have become one of the show places of Glendale.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Glendaleans and friends to partake of the hospitality of The Evening News office some time during the week, and enjoy seeing the building that has been remodeled and enlarged.

See Press Running
On this visit one will see the press, the largest of its kind on the Pacific coast of the United States. The press goes into operation about 2:30 every afternoon, except Sunday. On Tuesday night between 6 and 10 o'clock there will be a special press run for printing an edition of 150,000 copies. That will be an excellent time for the public to witness the big press in operation.

Also there will be a special run starting at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, when an edition of 20,000 will be printed. The public is invited to either or both of these special runs.

The most cordial hospitality is to be extended to visitors this week at The Glendale Evening News office, 139 South Brand boulevard. Come in and see where and how your home paper is printed.

"has no candidate," but in the same breath it is admitted that both Herbert Hoover and General Charles G. Dawes or "any other good man" of regular persuasion is acceptable to President Coolidge.

The western delegates were doing the most active campaigning in the hotels and gathering places.

Fresh from their contacts with dissatisfied agriculturists of the west and fearful of the "menace" presented in their states by the expected independent candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette, the westerners from the great producing belt are prepared to wage a last ditch fight for a vice president who will provide an effective balance for the conservative eastern influence.

The Iowa delegation afforded an outstanding example. The corn field delegates want L. J. Dickinson, Iowa.

Dickinson told interviewers and delegates today: "If we don't get a progressive on the ticket, a man friendly to agriculture, we all will be Democrats or worse out in the corn belt in November. And this goes for the whole northwest. This is the last opportunity the Republican party has before election to prove it wants to help the northwest."

Dickinson's name is to be presented to the convention by Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa.

R. W. Altman Furnished Flowers on Valentine

Youngest Elk of City Is Claimed By Exalted Ruler

A son was born at 5 o'clock this morning, Monday, June 9, 1924, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Patterson of 363 Riverdale drive, at the Glendale Research hospital.

As exalted ruler of the Glendale lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. Elks, Mr. Patterson at once hastened to the clubhouse on East Colorado boulevard, to proclaim to his fellow Elks that for the first time a son had been born to a ruler of the local lodge during his term of office.

The littlest Elk weighs eight and a half pounds and is a thoroughly healthy young man. His mother is doing nicely and everything is well in the Patterson household, except for the fact that little Harriet Louise, year and a half old daughter, now has a "broken nose."

Glendale Votes To Name City's Representative At Beverly Hills Ceremony

EVELYN HUNT

All Glendale will vote today! From two of our fairest daughters "Miss Glendale" will be chosen to impersonate our community at the Beverly Hills Wedding of Beauty and Industry. Which will be accorded the opportunity of representing us at this rendezvous of the Southland's influential citizens and famous beauties, who will gather to lend distinction to the unique event? Which of the two local contestants do you believe will carry away the honors?

This contest is not for the wit, the prettiest, nor the wisest—but to select the young woman who will best portray the spirit of our community and the honor which is accorded us in joining Beverly in her symbolic ceremony.

Both of these contestants are charming young women, on whom a lavish nature has smiled, bestowing gifts of beauty, loveliness and keen intellects. Both are dancers who have won considerable applause and fame for their performances and the scales seem about evenly balanced.

Despite the fact that the wedding ceremony was set forward to June 25, it was decided to carry the contests through to an early decision. It is said arrangements for a rehearsal of the ceremony are under way, and that word of this will be sent to the successful contestants.

The voting coupon is running elsewhere in this issue of The Evening News. Turn to it now and make your choice. To be eligible, all coupons must be in the hands of the contest manager in care of this paper not later than 6 p. m. o'clock Wednesday, June 11. Do it now.

Three Schools Selected as Recreation Centers for Vacation Months
Three of the grade school grounds have been designated as summer playgrounds for the months of July and August, and directors will be in charge every afternoon with the exception of Sunday, it is announced by R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation.

The city school board has taken action to have playground grounds installed on the Grand View, Doran and Pacific school grounds. These playgrounds will be under the jurisdiction of the municipal park and recreation commission and two directors will be employed by the commission and one by the city school board to handle the work.

Have Five Centers
Arrangements have been made to have the high school grounds open again this summer during the months of July and August. With the Patterson Avenue pool and playgrounds also open, Glendale will have five recreation centers in operation for the benefit of the youth of the city.

The summer program, as worked out by the commission, promises to be bigger and better than the very successful one carried out last year, and Mr. Tucker feels that an excellent start has been made towards a municipal playground system. He has complete charge of the summer playground program which will include sports of interest to children of all ages.

KWANIAN'S HOLD PICNIC ON RANCH

Athletic Contests, Singing And Big Basket Dinner Mark Annual Event

Members of the Kiwanis club, their families and friends, enjoyed an old-fashioned picnic and dinner held Saturday afternoon at Perry Whitin's ranch near La Crescenta. The fun started early in the afternoon with a baseball game and wound up late at night with a dance.

Park Arnold and William Bode were the heavy winners in the men's athletic contests. No official score was kept in the baseball game, since the runs were so many the exact total was lost in the maze of numerals, it is said.

President A. L. Baird led the community singing that was one of the features of the picnic dinner. The program was arranged by William Truitt, chairman of the program committee, and James McBride. Bert Perry supplied the picknickers with hot Chase and Sanborn coffee.

Mr. Dahman gave the police a description of the car he was driving, together with that of his son and another boy who is supposed to be with him.

GLENN B. PORTER WINS PRIZES IN HORSESHOE MEET

Glendale Hurler Lands In Twelfth Place Among Nation's Experts

Participating as the only representative of the state of California, Glenn B. Porter of 244 Salem street, took twelfth place in the national horseshoe tournament at Lake Worth, Florida, winning a loving cup and cash prize for his efforts. Mr. Porter and his wife have just returned to Glendale from a four months' trip through the southern and eastern states.

Traveling almost entirely by day, the Porters were able to observe a great deal of the country and enjoy the varied scenery of the many sections they passed through. The first stop of any duration was made at New Orleans, after which they journeyed on to Lake Worth, where Mr. Porter had the privilege of competing in the tournament in session there, as a representative of the Glendale club.

He describes the Florida climate as being very similar to that of Southern California except that the atmosphere is very humid and the evenings are not cool as they are here. In other respects it reminded him of California as real estate values were very high and there was a great deal of speculation.

Visit Washington
Traveling up the eastern coast, they stopped at Washington, D. C., and attended sessions of Congress while the Teapot Dome investigation was going on. They then went to Philadelphia where they visited Mr. and Mrs. John T. Thompson formerly of the city of Glendale.

Here Mr. Porter had the privilege of inspecting a large linoleum factory which he declares was the most interesting feature of his trip.

A short stop was made at Montclair, N. J., where Mr. Porter visited a cousin, before they continued on to New York city. After a four days' visit in New York, the return trip was started via Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Mr. Porter told of the beauty of the falls in winter, when the mist from the falling water freezes and forms great snowbanks on the rocks below the falls.

Stop at Old Home
The Porters spent over two months in Aleo, Ill., and vicinity, which is the home of the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Porter. They found the spring months there cool and dry, with the rainy season just commencing when they departed. Mr. Porter found the conditions throughout the middle west very unfavorable, with the farmers so burdened by overhead expenses that they are unable to realize any profit on their crops.

After leaving Aleo they stopped at Topeka, Kan., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Majors, who formerly lived in Glendale and who are planning on returning to this city as soon as they can dispose of property in the east. Relatives were also visited at Wichita before the trip west was started.

In returning to Glendale the southern route was taken through the Carizo Gorge and trips were made across the border into Mexico. They considered the mountain scenery over the southern road the most beautiful scene on the entire trip.

Public Invited To Visit Plant And See Press Run

The Glendale Evening News extends a hearty invitation to all Glendale and vicinity to visit its big plant to see its press, the largest of its kind on the Pacific coast of the United States, turning out Glendale's own newspaper.

The press goes into operation about 2:30 o'clock every afternoon, except Sunday. However, there will be a special press run next Tuesday night, between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock, when an edition of 150,000 copies will be printed. That will be an excellent time for the public to witness the big press in operation.

Also, there will be a special run starting at 9 o'clock next Thursday morning, when an edition of 20,000 will be printed. The public is invited to either or both of these special runs.

As stated, the regular edition of The Glendale Evening News is on the press each day about 2:30 o'clock. The public is invited to witness the press run, see how the big machine turns out the printed and folded product and witness the operation of the red ink attachment.

The latch string is out at The Glendale Evening News building, 139 South Brand. Come in and see a real newspaper in the making. Come any time you can; come as often as you wish. Next week will be "Glendale Evening" often as you wish. This week will be "Glendale Evening" Come and "make yourself at home."

Stork Overtakes Party Driving to Hospital In Car

Treacherous old Mr. Stork overtook Mr. and Mrs. William B. Morgan of 898 Galena avenue, Pasadena, at 7 o'clock Sunday night, June 8, 1924, as they sped along hurriedly towards the Monte Sano hospital on Glendale boulevard, Glendale.

The old bird didn't seem to be in much of a rush to reach their destination so the three took refuge in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Covert, 425 Wing street, where a little Miss Morgan was born.

Dr. C. F. Tuomy of 318 Griswold street, was the attending physician. Later Mrs. Morgan and daughter were removed to the hospital.

NEW VARIETY OF PICTURE BRIDES

Japs Marry to Avoid Ban On Immigrants, Report American Citizens

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—California, after weeks of waiting, is finally satisfying its curiosity regarding "Kankodan brides," a subject with which recent dispatches from Washington on the Japanese exclusion act have been filled. But it is with some disappointment that California is learning about the new brand of Oriental brides. For it develops that they are just a new variety of picture brides.

Approximately 400 of the Kankodan brides have passed through the hands of the immigration authorities so far and it is expected that from 7,000 to 20,000 of them will have taken up their residence in America before the exclusion act becomes effective.

Meaning of Word
"Kankodan" in Japanese means "exclusion party," but attaches to the Japanese consulate declare the term does not really fit the newcomers. The brides, they assert, are by no means participants in any excursion party, although Americans returning from the Orient disagree.

What actually is happening is that Japanese residents of America are going home a la "Kankodan." When they reach Japan they are met by marriage brokers—the same men who used to ship picture brides to the United States after the husbands-to-be had picked them out by mail. The marriage brokers exhibit to the home concern pictures of young women who are willing to marry. The wife seekers then visit the home towns of the women they select—and if the women live up to their photograph and descriptions, marriages are immediately made. The bridegrooms frequently traveling in Kankodan groups and then bringing the wives back to America.

To Beat Exclusion
Americans returning from Japan say that virtually every city and town in the empire is busy helping Japanese residents of America get married before the exclusion act becomes effective. Each municipality has its marriage broker or brokers to whom the young women take their photographs and appeals for husbands. The brokers when they have collected an assortment of photographs, hurry to the ports to meet incoming ships.

Most of the Kankodan brides who have come in so far are past 20 years in age. Few of them measure up to American standards of good looks. But that they are in the best of health is evidenced by the fact that not a single one yet has failed to pass the rigorous government tests.

Scream In Telephone Turns In Fire Alarm

A police mystery was nipped in the bud Saturday afternoon when a woman's scream over the telephone at police headquarters sent Detective Sergeants Blake and Stanford hurrying to 330 West Eulalia street.

Desk Sergeant W. L. Reardon, answering the phone, heard a woman scream, and then the receiver dropped to the floor. The telephone company furnished the address of the origin of the call, and on investigation it turned out that Catherine Goff had set fire accidentally to the lace curtains. The fire was extinguished before damage to any extent had been done.

Mrs. Becker Addresses Bible Class Members To Meet at Mission

Declaring that "New Thought and Truth" followers believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ, Mrs. Adaline Becker, for ten years leader of the Truth center of Los Angeles, addressed the Glendale center yesterday morning on the subject, "What We Think of Christ."

"The great fundamentals," said Mrs. Becker, "are to know ourselves as children of the Most High, as Jesus so frequently called us, and to follow in the footsteps of the Great Exemplar. To strive to arouse the indwelling spirituality of man is to strive toward the Christ ideal."

"Let us emphasize more, Christ the master, and less, Christ the sacrifice. Too much of the latter teaching has caused children in Sunday schools to conceive of the Savior as a person to be pitied, instead of giving the picture of Christ as the marvelous, shining, glorious one to be followed and revered."

SCHOOL TEACHER NAMED DELEGATE

Mrs. Etta Ooly Artz Will Go to National Education Meet at Capital

EAGLE ROCK, June 9.—The convention of the National Education association, to be held at Washington, D. C., the latter part of June, will have as a delegate from this community Mrs. Etta Ooly Artz, teacher of the graduating class at the Eagle Rock school. She was chosen by the Los Angeles Teachers' club as one of their four delegates.

Mrs. Artz will leave four days before the end of the school term and will accompany the other delegates from Los Angeles to the convention. There will be numerous delegates from the various districts, including school principals and superintendents from all parts of the state.

Following the convention, Mrs. Artz plans to join her son in New York, where he is completing his musical career. While there, she will take up studies at Columbia university.

Finishes Picture
Conrad Buff, the well known artist, who is a resident of Eagle Rock, has just completed a mural painting for the new William Penn hotel at Whittier.

The picture represents a typical California bay, whose distant shores, rocky and precipitous, are bathed in the late afternoon sunshine. In the dark and shadowy foreground an old-fashioned sailing vessel is beginning to anchor, while the upper part of the painting is decoratively arranged with sycamore leaves, falling down from some hidden tree, through which one can just glimpse the delicate evening sky.

Open Gas Office
Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation now has a branch office in Eagle Rock. Located at 5042 Eagle Rock boulevard, the new office was opened last Wednesday, being established for the convenience of the corporation's rapidly increasing number of patrons in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones, who have been spending several months on their property at Victorville, have returned to their home on South Lockhaven avenue. Mr. and Mrs. George Van Sands, who occupied the Jones residence during their absence, have moved to Sumner avenue.

PLAN TO DIVIDE RANCH PROPERTY

Report Subdivision of Land to Be Made Soon; Good Sites Offered

SUNLAND, June 9.—An announcement has been made that the Mears ranch, northwest of Monte Vista park, will be subdivided into homesteads this fall by the new owners, who just recently came into possession of the property.

The property offers a variety of building sites seldom found on one piece of ground. There is not only level land but some excellent hillside and knoll locations that offer the unobstructed view that is so desirable in a suburban homestead. From the top of one hill may be seen the San Fernando valley, Big Tujunga canyon, Tujunga, the foothills to the north, part of the higher peaks beyond that are often covered with snow and all the surrounding hills and valleys of the Monte Vista valley which including Sunland and Tujunga townships.

Seek Extension of Lighting District

SUNLAND, June 9.—A petition asking for the extension of the Tujunga street lighting district to include certain portions of Sunland at present unlighted, has been circulated and the necessary number of signatures secured, according to A. Adams, Jr., chairman of the committee on lights. The territory desiring annexation to the Tujunga lighting district extends from Third street to Western avenue and from Michigan avenue to a line nearly as far north as the Big Tujunga wash.

SUNLAND, June 9.—Just to show that they have no superstitions of the number 13 or the combination of it and Friday, the members of the Valley Center Improvement League have set that date as the time for an old-fashioned dance they will give at Twin Pines pavilion, Sunland.

Details of the entertainment have not yet been announced, but there will be some surprise features as usual with these affairs. No doubt some of the talented local musicians and entertainers will contribute numbers to a program yet to be arranged.

PLANS TO STAGE PLAY AT SCHOOL

BURBANK, June 9.—Mrs. Nanno Woods of Glendale will repeat her popular interpretation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the high school here, July 19, which is the third Saturday of next month. The play will be presented by pupils of Mrs. Woods' school of "Klever Kiddies," containing pupils both from Burbank and Glendale.

After the performance, which will be in the afternoon, the children taking part will be entertained at a dinner tendered by the manager of the Benmar Hills tract. This play, with its beautiful dances, charming costumes, absorbing plot and clever children from Mrs. Woods' class, is considered by those who have seen it as one of the best things of its kind ever staged in this part of the country.

Company I, 160th California National guard, is now on probation by order of the adjutant general of the state of California, pending the securing of better drill attendance, states Captain Frank Tillson. The time for filing the ranks will expire June 30, and if the proper number of recruits willing to give the required attendance is forthcoming by that time the company will be continued.

Captain Tillson is very hopeful that the required number of men who are willing to give the necessary time to the guards will be procured and the company kept intact.

The Presbyterian Missionary society is planning to hold a Relay day, with an impromptu "pot luck" luncheon at 12 o'clock. June 12 is the date chosen for the relay, "the ladies" are invited to attend.

Mrs. J. Wright of San Bernardino motored to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Colburn of Fernandale, bringing with her Victor Colburn, who had been visiting her. Miss Viola Colburn returned with her grandmother for a visit.

Boy Scouts Camp in Big Tujunga Canyon

TUJUNGA, June 9.—Ten boys of Troop 1, Boy Scouts, spent two days hiking up the Big Tujunga canyon. Assistant Scoutmaster Orison Bragg led the troop and the boys hiked about fifteen miles up the canyon.

Plans are being made for the establishment of a permanent week-end camp in the Big Tujunga canyon somewhere near the entrance, to be used for outings of the different troops of scouts in the Verdugo hills. Tujunga scout officials have already inspected and made tentative selection of a site.

Adopt Novel Plan to Raise Fund for Club

TUJUNGA, June 9.—Cartridge belts of paper, the loops to be filled with pennies, are being distributed by the Tujunga Woman's club as part of their campaign to raise funds for their new clubhouse. Each belt has five loops and the total of all belts is one-quarter of a mile. The pennies that the belts will hold represent the amount needed by the club to give the members a vacation from money-raising activities during the summer months when the club will not be in session.

Pick Flower Missions As Topic for Meeting

TUJUNGA, June 9.—Flower Missions is announced as the subject of discussion scheduled for the next meeting of the Tujunga Woman's Christian Temperance Union, to be held tomorrow at the home of Miss Carrie Brown, 639 East Olive street. The present road has been somewhat improved. The building of the new road, work on which can be expected within a year will revolutionize the conditions, and make these playground places easily accessible to the public.

Pick Cabin Sites
The Big Tujunga Canyon is coming to its own. It is stated that there are very few available cabin sites left, practically all the sites which the government will open having been taken. Last year there were few sites taken, comparatively, and the chance to select was good. According to the reports forty new cabins are being built this year. Some of these are in the main canyon, and some in the side canyons.

An event of considerable local interest is the coming wedding of Miss Bertha Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wheeler of Glendale, and Dean Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Williams of Glendale, and grandson of Mrs. L. May Dean of Tujunga. The ceremony will be performed June 12 by the bride's grandfather.

COUNT AUTOS ON TRAFFIC ARTERY

Submit Figures In Campaign For Wider Highway In Foothill Towns

SUNLAND, June 9.—In an effort to convince the county commissioners that Michigan avenue, the state highway through Tujunga and Sunland, is much too narrow for safe travel with the present heavy traffic, the Valley Center Improvement league made a check of the traffic passing at Walnut drive.

Between the hours of 6:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. there were 5069 cars passed the intersection. This check was made on a week-day, and is considered about one-fifth the number of cars that pass along this highway on Sundays and holidays.

Every civic organization in the valley between Sunland and Tujunga has been urging the supervisors to widen the pavement of the highway by building additions to each side of the present pavement. In a recent interview with some of the officials appointed to work for the improvement, they were informed that there was not a very optimistic outlook for the project at present. The officials recognize the need of a wider pavement through the section, they said, but there are other and more urgent needs elsewhere, according to their judgment.

Pritchard and Clayton of Los Angeles; xylophone and cornet solos by Kenneth and Iris Howell; comedy sketches by J. L. Smith, James D. La Motte, R. E. Forbush, D. S. Wieman, Carroll W. These three teams are well known for their entertainments. Mr. and Mrs. Coffman are experienced professional artists who have recently made their home in Tujunga.

LANKERSHIM, June 9.—The $165,000 hotel project is now well under way. This is a community proposition, sponsored by local men. The following officers head the sales department: Dr. C. W. Shirey, general chairman; D. C. Coates, associate general chairman; O. J. Renfrew, secretary; F. W. Hicks, treasurer.

This new hotel is one of the big things in store for Lankershim. O. J. Renfrew, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and secretary of the new hotel corporation, recently said: "Lankershim and San Fernando valley is on the eve of an unprecedented development."

"This region is recognized by Greater Los Angeles Association as a necessary district for its expansion, and it is predicted that within three years there will be repeated here a construction program and a population increase surpassing even the most closely built-up district of 'he city'."

It is proposed that Lankershim's new community hotel will be located on the west side of Lankershim boulevard about 600 feet south of Fourth street. This proposed location is what is known as the Chiarodit property.

Lankershim voted in favor of the school bonds 559 to 10 or 56 to 1, a record to be proud of. About a 50 per cent vote was polled, which is very good for a special election.

The local Kiwanis club will be well represented at the International Kiwanis convention at Denver, June 16-20, according to a report made by Secretary Frank Cornwell at the directors' meeting of the local club.

Those that have signified their intention of going and have made reservations on the Kiwanis special train, leaving Los Angeles Friday, June 13, are J. and Mrs. H. J. Penfield, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilcox, C. Newell Carns and Will C. Cass.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY BROTHERHOOD

Monthly Dinners Enjoyed by Members at Community Church in Valley

TUJUNGA, June 9.—A new orchestra made its appearance at the last monthly dinner meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the Tujunga Community church, which included instruments ranging from a wash tub to a harmonica and the sounds they produced ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous and back again.

The last meeting was especially enjoyable, say the members who attended, for the program included an address that was full of humor by Rev. F. W. Willman of San Fernando. In addition to this the guests were full of an excellent dinner and the evening was brought to a close by the rendition of some excellent music, including selections by a male quartet composed of J. A. Jenkins, H. J. Jaeger, J. L. Sweet and E. W. Schoch; selections by a quartet composed of Mrs. A. Adams, Mrs. Sweet, Mrs. Jaeger and Mrs. Jenkins; a tenor solo by Mr. Jaeger and several instrumental numbers.

Gardeners Will Show Variety of Blossoms

SUNLAND, June 9.—A wide variety of blossoms is expected to be exhibited when the Flower Show is held here this fall. The show will be held under the auspices of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce, Monte Vista Woman's club, and the Valley Center Improvement league.

Each contestant will be at liberty to select any flower desired, according to a decision of committees at a recent meeting. Prizes will be given for the best exhibits and the promoters of the show expect to see some excellent plants. If the idea proves as popular as is expected plans may be made for making the flower show an annual affair.

Improvement Pledged For Sunland Streets

SUNLAND, June 9.—The Sunland Chamber of Commerce road improvement committee has been given a promise of improvements for both Los Angeles street and First street for the coming year. These two streets are among the most traveled in Sunland and it has been urged that they be graded and cilled first when the new budget is made up.

Montrose Girl Named As Wedding Delegate

MONTROSE, June 9.—Miss Virginia Ellis has been selected to represent Montrose as a bridesmaid in the wedding of Beauty and Industry to take place at Beverly Hills June 17, when that community will stage a great celebration. A large delegation is expected to go from Montrose to participate in the celebration.

TAX REDUCTIONS TO EFFECT HUGE ANNUAL SAVINGS

Cut in Southland Payments to Total $11,667,000, Official Estimate

Southern California taxpayers will save approximately $11,667,000 annually under the reductions in federal taxes provided for by the new revenue bill. In addition to this a reduction of $7,500,000 is allowed on taxes on 1923 incomes, which are payable this year.

Collector Rex B. Goodcell in a report made to Washington today segregated the annual tax reductions for the sixth California district as follows:

Income	$7,500,000
Candy	250,000
Admission taxes	2,000,000
Manufacturers' excise tax	30,000
Retail jewelry	615,000
Special theatre tax	47,000
Beverages	180,000
Tires and accessories	410,000
Stamp taxes	25,000
Tel. and tel. messages	350,000
Total annual reduction	$11,667,000

Radical changes in addition to the flat reduction of 25 per cent on 1923 income, allowed under the new revenue act, were explained by Collector Goodcell in a survey covering the measure. These changes, with the exception of the 25 per cent reduction, go into effect on 1924 income on which returns must be filed next March.

Personal Exemptions
Under the new legislation a personal exemption of $2,500 is allowed all taxpayers. The old bill limited the exemption to $1,000. Incomes of $5,000 or less, only $2,000 being allowed on incomes in excess of $5,000. The $400 allowance for each dependent is unchanged.

Every married couple whose net income is $2,000 or more must file a return. The old bill required returns on net incomes of $2,000. Single persons with net incomes of $1,000 or more must file.

Returns must be filed for all gross incomes of $5,000 or more, regardless of the amount of net income.

Changes in Income Rates
On earned net incomes of $4,000 or less the new rate will be 2 per cent instead of 4 per cent as heretofore. In other words, the same old wage earner gets the benefit of the 2 per cent rate, which is a 50 per cent reduction, and a further allowance of 25 per cent, giving him an actual tax rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

In addition to this reduction a further deduction of 25 per cent is allowed on all earned income not to exceed $10,000. In other words, the same old wage earner gets the benefit of the 2 per cent rate, which is a 50 per cent reduction, and a further allowance of 25 per cent, giving him an actual tax rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

Taxes Repealed
Tax on admission of 50 cents or less to theatres and other places of amusement. Effective 30 days after signing of bill.

Tax on all jewelry sold under $30 and on watches of a value of $60 or less. Operative in 30 days.

Tax on telephone and telegraph messages. Effective in 30 days.

Special tax on seating capacity of theatres, museums, concert halls and public exhibitions, 30 days.

Stamp on promissory notes and time drafts, 30 days.

Manufacturers' tax on candy, yachts and pleasure boats, hunting knives, daggers, ivory boxes and hats, 30 days.

Manufacturers' tax on carpets, rugs, trunks, valises, suit cases, hat bags, purses, portable lighting fixtures and fans, effective at once.

Manufacturers' tax on cereal beverages, unfermented fruit juices, still drinks, natural and artificial waters, fountain syrups and carbonic gas. Effective at once.

Manufacturers' tax on tires, inner tubes and accessories is reduced from five per cent to 2 1/2 per cent. Effective in thirty days.

The cabaret admission tax will be collected on admissions in excess of 50 cents.

Collector Goodcell said that the law regarding income taxes from corporations and the capital stock tax regulations remained practically unchanged.

Signs of Prosperity
"As evidence of the stability of business conditions in Southern California I will point out just one fact," Collector Goodcell stated.

"The Revenue Act of 1921 resulted in a tax reduction of $15,000,000 annually in Southern California. In the face of this immense reduction the collections of this office for the last calendar

HOSPITAL'S COST TO BE $1,250,000

Veterans' Bureau Will Call For Bids on Plant at Ford-Craig Ranch

TUJUNGA, June 9.—Bids are expected to be called for July 1 for construction work on the $1,000,000 veterans' hospital to be built on the old Ford-Craig ranch between San Fernando and Pacoima. Major Borden, head of the Los Angeles veterans' bureau, made this announcement last week.

If present plans mature according to schedule, actual construction work will be started by July 15. The finished health plant is expected to cost $1,250,000 and will be one of the best equipped of its kind anywhere.

There will be two main buildings with 300 beds each, an administrative unit, auditorium, open-air theatre, employees' quarters and a number of cottages. The cottages will be built in colony formation, similar to plans adopted by other large sanitariums. Each cottage will provide accommodations for four persons.

The plan has already met with much favor, and it is expected that the organization will be formed.

While Glendale slept Saturday night, the greatest money parade ever seen on Brand boulevard was passing. The only witnesses of the pageant were some heavily-armed Glendale policemen. Unlike the Scots parade, it was unheralded and it passed into history with far less noise and confusion.

The occasion was the moving of the safe deposit department of the Glendale Security bank from its present location to its new location in the great steel and concrete vault in the basement of the six-story Glendale Security building.

All night long a small army of truckers made the big move, with the police standing by ready for any emergency that might arise. Probably never in the history of Glendale was more wealth circulating in the vicinity of Brand and Broadway than Saturday night, but now it is all under lock and key again, to remain until its owners desire access to it again.

All Security box renters, therefore, will find their boxes in the new building now, even though the formal opening does not come until Saturday. A special invitation is being extended to the public to take the elevators to the roof and enjoy the splendid view obtainable from there over all parts of the valley. Because of the height of the building and its location in about the center of the valley, the view is almost equal to that from an aeroplane, it is declared.

Alfred F. Priest, the Glendale architect, who planned the Security Building and had general supervision of its construction, will make a great pride in the opening next Saturday as the bank itself. He is being kept busy about 16 hours a day now getting things in final shape so that the doors may open at 4 o'clock to a complete building.

Viscount Kato, essentially a party man, was selected because of the power of the Kenseikai party which he heads in the diet and his strong appeal to the masses who feel that Japan's nationalistic spirit is endangered. The feeling that the Kiyoura ministry is permitted and abetted exclusion legislation by the United States was an important fact in its downfall.

Cabinet Selections
Well-informed cabinet predictions give the important foreign ministry to either Viscount Ishii or Baron Shidehara, both former envoys to the United States, with the latter favored for the post. Other ministries are expected to be as follows: Home, Reijiro Wakatsuki; finance, Yuko Hamanishi; war, General Ugaki; navy, Admiral Kantaro Suzuki or Admiral Takarabe; agriculture and commerce, Seiji Hayami; communications, Utagaki; justice, Egi; education, Seki; railways, Yokota.

SCHOOL TEACHER TALKS ON KOREA

Missionary to Far Eastern Country Is Speaker at Endeavor Meeting

Dr. Henderson of Korea was the principal speaker last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor society, held in the Glendale Presbyterian church at 6 o'clock. Dr. Henderson is the principal of the boys' high school in southern Korea. This is the only high school among 2,000,000 people, and has an enrollment of 400 students. Dr. Henderson's address was particularly interesting, as he gave a vivid description of the customs and habits of the Korean young people.

The regular topic of the meeting, "Christian Courtesy," was presented by Jean Harker and Margaret Wilson, leaders. Special music, including vocal duets by Dorothy Schenck and Marguerite Naughton, were greatly enjoyed.

Meeting at Hospital
Mrs. Terry, parish worker of the church, gave a short talk emphasizing the need of patience with handicapped and elderly people.

During the evening a delegation of fifteen members of the society motored to the General Hospital in Los Angeles, where they conducted a Christian Endeavor meeting, with Paul Edmonds in charge.

Sunday afternoon a large number of the members attended the Christian Endeavor rally, which was conducted at the First Christian church in Los Angeles.

PRAISE WORK OF CLUB EXECUTIVE

Mrs. McCormack Lauded in Resolution Passed by Biennial Meeting

Glendale may well be proud of the recognition being received by Mrs. H. S. McCormack of 624 North Brand boulevard, for her work as chairman of the public welfare exhibit in connection with the biennial convention in Los Angeles.

Chairmen of public welfare from the various states represented at the convention, and the chairman of public welfare for the General Federation, are highly praising Mrs. McCormack. They have expressed their praise in a resolution to the executive board of the General Federation. They are to further honor Mrs. McCormack at a dinner Friday night.

Within a few minutes after the appeal had been broadcast several volunteers had telephoned their willingness to undergo a sacrifice of their blood.

ARTISTRY MARKS PERFORMANCE OF KELLER DANCERS

Crippled Children Benefit From Entertainment at L. A. Auditorium

Artistic accomplishment and the real spirit of service were happily associated Saturday afternoon and night, when the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art of Glendale presented its second annual benefit performance for the Crippled Children's Guild of the Orthopedic hospital school in the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles. Splendid crowds greeted Miss Keller and the 200 children she presented at the matinee and night performance and in addition to the delightful entertainment offered, those presenting the program and those witnessing it were aiding in a very worthy cause.

This cause was emphasized during the program by Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, who spoke on behalf of the Crippled Children's Guild, announcing that proceeds from the affair are to be used for the upkeep of an ambulance donated to the hospital by a men's club of Los Angeles.

Lands Miss Keller
Judge Bledsoe spoke in praise of Miss Keller, of her personal charm and success as a teacher of children, and of her pleasure in doing something for others. Gorgeous costumes, brilliant settings and fine music were features of the program in which Miss Keller presented all classes of her pupils from the tiny babies of 2, 3 and 4 years old to others along in their teens.

Each youngster was perfectly and artistically costumed for the various numbers and Miss Keller and her assistants who planned and fashioned the costumes are to be complimented on their artistic work.

From the opening chorus, "Turn On Your Radio," to the farewell number, "Grecian Dance," the program was a delight to both the little artists and the audience.

COMMENT That's All

Week-End's Tragedy Going In Too Deep Working At Sixteen For Clean Pictures

By Gil A. Cowan

Every week-end seems to hold tragedy in store for the people of Southern California. If it is not the toll of motor crashes, something else comes along with its dirge of death and takes numerous lives.

A week ago the Hope school fire was the catastrophe over which many mourned. Yesterday a ground swell upset a light motorboat in Newport bay and eight Santa Ana people were drowned.

In the latter instance no precaution other than the ability of all to swim while fully clothed could have possibly saved the victims.

Every boy and girl should be taught to swim at an early age. The earlier they learn the more natural it is.

Bob Bradbury, who is employed as a life saver at Brookside park, has dragged fifteen youngsters out of the water in two weeks when they were in a drowning condition.

"They go in too deep," he told the writer. "They tire out. Then they need someone to pull them out."

That's human nature for you, folks. How many go into things too deep.

In the matter of education, for instance. How many people have bankrupted their health and happiness by too much education without enough knowledge of the good things of life? Take Loeb and Leopold, for instance.

Then people who overdo things "tire out." In the personal columns of one of the metropolitan papers we read of a business man "who has lost his grip" wanting an attendant, farm bred with a college education.

That's a pretty good recommendation, methinks, for the farmer boy. He seldom loses his grip—and the wealthy seeker of health knows that such a youth can inspire him with nature-given sympathy.

Strange old world, isn't it, when you look around?

Now about the thought, "people need someone to pull them out."

There is a truism we seldom recognize until it is too late.

A veteran editor said of the Franks' murder case: "Too many young people today try to live without God, without reverence."

Absolutely right, he is. The youth of today needs a life-saver. Someone to pull them out of the mire of sophistication and education, if you please.

Governor Richardson raised a storm of protest when he suggested that all young people go to work when they are 16. By that he meant they should turn their adolescent energies to something useful.

Of course, the educators roared. It was going to spoil their "business" if too many young people found out the truth that equals a much can be learned out of school (if not more) as inside of the class room.

That, however, depends on the child and it is well to have a law requiring all to continue their studies until they reach a majority. By day they could do something practical and employ their evenings at class work instead of attending the motion picture theatres and dance halls.

The Los Angeles Times, in the city of the films, says editorially this morning regarding the trashy pictures now being made that the producers "can at least set their influence against the too-prevalent movie stories that feature American life as a mad whirl of phillanders, vamps, flappers, two-gun men, lounge lizards, cake eaters, home wreckers and general plotters against the legal statutes and moral codes."

Both theatre managers and those who attend do well to encourage such people as Pickford, Fairbanks and Harold Lloyd, who stand pre-eminently for clean pictures. There are others, perhaps, who are deserving of support, but on the whole the general observation throughout the world today is the censure of the prevailing product of Hollywood.

NEW TRI-CHURCH CHORUS SING AT VESPER SERVICE

Singers Will Appear Next Sunday Night on High School Program

Following the initial appearance and great success of the Tri-Church chorus yesterday afternoon at the First Congregational church, comes the announcement that the chorus is to sing next Sunday night at the baccalaureate service at the Broadway High school.

Great interest was aroused recently when the organization of the chorus was made known. Composed of singers from the choirs of the First Congregational, First Baptist and Central Avenue Methodist churches and directed by Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, H. W. Carver and Dr. Joseph Marple, this choral group proved yesterday that it is a musical organization that will be heartily supported by lovers of sacred music.

The three choirs have been merged into a chorus capable of doing splendid ensemble work and singers and directors were justly praised by the crowds that filled the church yesterday for the first concert.

Present Operatic Star

An outstanding number of the vesper hour was the duet by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Marple, "Love Divine" (Stainer). Assisting the chorus was Miss Hazel Linkogel, violinist, whose playing of "Ave Maria" (Schubert), with Miss Lila Litch at the organ, was considered one of the best pieces of work she has ever done before a Glendale audience. In addition there were selections by a male quartet and by a mixed quartet.

The chorus was pleased to present Joseph Disky, grand opera tenor, recently from New York. Mr. Disky is a friend of J. R. Detwiler of Glendale.

SOX WIN SIXTEENTH STRAIGHT CONTEST

BEAT PASADENA 9-4 AT BROOKSIDE PARK; LEGION DEFEATED BY WILDCATS

Merchants Unable to Hit Bigbee Until Ninth Inning

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.
Glendale's White Sox are better on the road than they are at home, in witness whereof ask Lorin Ury, Pasadena Merchant, who was forced to swallow the bitterest pill of his baseball career yesterday when the Pasadena crew was given a drubbing by the Sox at Brookside park, and gave the White Sox their sixteenth straight win.

The score was 9 to 4, which does not give any idea of the way the Merchants were outclassed, and the game was played before a crowd estimated at 10,000, by far the largest turnout that ever witnessed a semi-pro game in Southern California. The crowd jammed the stands, and completely encircled the playing fields, and had no small part in the victory registered by the Sox.

Lyle Bigbee, released by the Angels last week, worked for the Sox, and the Merchants were unable to fathom him at all until the ninth inning, when they scored several times due to mis-cues by his mates, but at the crisis he tightened up and the home boys could do nothing with him.

Young Hits Hard
"Pep" Young, diminutive left gardener for the Sox, who never distinguished himself before by losing any barks, evidently had a shot of his namesake yesterday. Out of six times at bat, he was walked once, hit by Manker twice, and poled out four times. Of them home runs. That is, after the first half pitched by Ury, who started for the Merchants, clear over George Haas' head for a homer, and turned the trick again in the sixth inning, sending in Sullivan and Bigbee ahead of him. He hit for a total of ten bases during the game.

Lefty Smith started the game for the Merchants, but could not stay one inning. With two out and five runs in he was relieved by Manker, another southpaw, who pitched fair enough game, although he knew the task to be hopeless.

Intense Rivalry Seen
The intense rivalry between Kermin and Ury, and the members of the two teams was evident from the time the first player took the field to warm up until long after the game. The first real argument came up about the ground rules. Sawyer wanted it fixed so that a hit into the crowd went for two bases, as is the case in all ball parks in the country.

Ury, knowing the hitting prowess of the Merchants, would not stand for this, claiming that the ball was in play at all times. As he was on his home grounds, he won out, but as it happened it lost him the game, and he got a sound razzing from the fans in the bleachers on his attitude.

At 2:30 o'clock the game was scheduled to start. Sullivan, Glendale catcher, whose car had broken down on the way from Santa Monica, was not on the field, although he was on the grounds in the club house dressing. Kerwin asked Ury to wait a minute, but the Pasadena pilot demanded that the game be pitched for him. Kerwin's attitude did not take the field promptly at that hour. This made him more unpopular than ever.

Sullivan Shows Up
The Sox started, at bat, and Dorman was labeled as the catcher with Carillo going to center. Before it became time for the Sox to take the field or Carillo to bat Sullivan was on the field so all this argument went for nothing. Fannin, Pasadena second baseman, started to attack Umpire Page in the seventh but was held back by Ury and the other players. Altogether it was some afternoon. Now for the scoring.

The first inning beat the Merchants hopelessly. After Young had hit the first ball pitched for a home run, Dorman and Shields were easy outs, Smith to Cline. Then the fun started. Sawyer walked, and Shellenbach, Orsatt, Hingoyen, Bigbee and Sullivan singled, sending in four more men. Young up for the second time in the inning, walked. Ury at this stage finally pulled Smith, and sent in Manker. Dorman lined to Drunert to end the agony.

Three In Fifth
The Sox added three more in the fifth. Orsatt singled infield and Hingoyen sacrificed him to second. Bigbee hit to McNabb and Orsatt was trapped between second and third. The whole Pasadena crew gathered around third and Bigbee ran to second. He took third when somebody threw the ball to trap him at second and no one was there to cover the base.

Movie Players Upset Buddies' Winning Streak, 12-8

By J. A. KAZMARK
Of The Evening News Staff.
Furnishing the entertainment at the White Sox park during the absence Sunday of Carl Sawyer's crew, the American Legion post lost its first game of the season, after winning eight in a row, to the Tom Mix Wildcats by the lopsided score of 12 to 8. A fair crowd turned out to give the Legionnaires a hand.

Keeping La Belle in the box after he had completely lost control of the situation proved to be the undoing of the Legion lads, who had the game well in hand until the seventh inning. After La Belle's ascension in the seventh, the Legionnaires began playing ragged ball, hooting and throwing the ball away at times when runs counted the most. Fannin's catching was slow, many balls getting away from the big receiver that proved the undoing of the chances for the locals to turn their ninth straight win.

Novak Is Effective
Lefty Novak's twirling for the Wildcats was of a variety that kept the hits well scattered, and his support was there in the benches, except in the fourth, when a total of four runs was shoved over. After this temporary bombardment, Novak settled down to his usual brand of steady work, holding the service bunch well in hand the rest of the game.

The local post will have a changed line-up next Sunday, plans being under way to strengthen the club, both on the mound and on the infield.

Babe Ruth Is Leading Home Run Kings

CHICAGO, June 9.—There were no changes among the home-run leaders in the major leagues the past week, "Babe" Ruth, New York Americans, getting one more circuit clout to raise his total to 14 and Jacques Fournier, Brooklyn Nationals, adding two during the week, bringing his total to 12. In the American League Kenneth Williams, St. Louis, remained in second place with eight homers, although he garnered none during the seven-day period but Hauser, Philadelphia, adding two to his previous total of six, tied the rangy brown slugger. Hartnett, Chicago Nationals, got demoted to first place, having moved into second place in his circuit.

Sullivan walked, and Young drove out a home run, his second of the day to right. Three runs.

The other Sox tally came in the seventh. Bigbee was safe on Fannin's error, took second on Sullivan's sacrifice and scored on Young's long single to center.

The Merchants uncorked their fire works in the ninth, when four hits, including Drunert's homer, netted four runs.

The Sox play the Pacific Electric's here next Sunday, following the big game Saturday with the U. S. S. New Mexico.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—
If you want a rule interpreted—
If you want to know anything about a player—
Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the game what it is today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

Address: John B. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of The Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

Copyright, 1924, by Evening News. QUESTION—Ground rule is made that the runner may take one base on a passed ball, but he is not to be considered in play. The base runner or runners may advance and make all the bases they can.

ANSWER—Please give me the professional history of Charles Robertson, and are the Sox strong enough to stand any chance to win the championship of the American league?

ANSWER—Robertson began to pitch for Sherman, Texas, in 1917, and went from there to Chicago, thence to Minneapolis for three years and back to Chicago. He is a graduate of Austin College. The Sox may be contenders for the American league championship. No one knows what will happen in a baseball race.

QUESTION—Batter bunts the ball in front of the plate and the ball bounces up and hits his bat which is still in his hand. Is the batter out?

ANSWER—If the batter was in his box when the ball hit his bat, I should rule it a foul, as the batter's box is in foul ground.

TIGER FOOTBALL PROSPECTS GOOD

Coach Sid Nichols Hopes to Build Up Championship Team for 1924

Coach Sid Nichols, head football mentor at Occidental college for the 1924 season, is busy mapping out a stiff training program for the coming year and looking over the prospects for a winning conference football varsity. The schedule includes five conference contests, a game with the San Diego State Teacher's College, a return engagement with Stanford University, a trip to Nevada, and a clash with Santa Clara. Graduation will have claimed six Tiger grid players from the 1923 varsity team. Captain Tony Spangler, Cliff Argus, Art Garey, Gordon Shoaf, Tiny Snoddy and Pierre Prialux, will all be missing.

Coach Nichols will be assisted by Coach Oat Smith, Coach Pipal, Daugherty, and a group of alumni. They will start building around Captain elect, Dave Riddorhof. There will be other letter men of note, such as Clarence Ebers, Tevis Westgate, Roy Wheeler, Fauchie Smith and Stan Creswell. On the line will be Chubby Creighton and McDonald at guards, Jock Stevens at tackle, Hazeltine, Pursell, Johnson, and Tanaka at ends. The center position is in doubt but a fast rumor floating around carries the good news that "Swede" Renius, star of former years will be back.

Fresh Available
Coach Nichols will be surrounded by some twenty-five players from this year's freshman eleven, all of which have been captains or served three years on their prep teams while in high school. Included are: Kleinpelt, Pursell, and Hitch, all from Franklin; Solly, Mishkin from Hollywood High; Tony Parra, Lincoln High; Gregory from Fullerton; McKann from Covina, Condie from Puente, Hubert from Pacific Grove, Betts from Long Beach, the Black brothers from Pasadena High, Brodhead from Monrovia, and Deaver from Puente.

Conference Schedule
The Southern California conference football schedule for the coming season is as follows:
Oct. 4—Occidental at Stanford.
Oct. 11—Whittier at Caltech.
Oct. 18—S. B. U. C. at Whittier; Oxy at Redlands; Caltech at Pomona.
Oct. 25—Oxy at S. B. U. C.; Redlands at Pomona.
Nov. 1—S. B. U. C. at Pomona; Whittier at Occidental; Caltech at Redlands.

SACS AND ANGELS PLAY 15 INNINGS

Senators Take Series, Also Opening Game; Seraphs Capture Second

By BEN MCGUIRE
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Ten thousand fans saw Sacramento and Los Angeles split a double header at Washington Park yesterday. The Solons winning the first game 4-3 and the Angels the second affair, 4-0. The first game went fifteen innings before the Solons were able to push over the winning run.

The Angels outthit the Senators in the first game, but Prough was effective in the pinches and pulled himself out of several dangerous holes, before he was relieved by Canfield in the tenth. Hughes, although a hit wild the first three innings, settled down after that and pitched a mastery game of ball, going the full fifteen innings.

In the second game Root was very effective, holding the Sacs to two blows, scoring a shutout victory.

In the seventh inning of the first game when both were tied, McNeely slammed the ball over the left field bleachers for a home run, putting the Solons in front with one run, only to have it tied again in the eighth when Cruise doubled to right-center, and Golvin, who was put in to run for him, took third on a passed ball and dashed home, when Schang threw the ball wide to Colonel Pick.

TIGERS 4-8, SUDS 8-9

SEATTLE, June 9.—The most hectic series of baseball games ever witnessed in Seattle wound up here yesterday when the Indians took both games of a double header from Vernon. The score of the first game was 8 to 4 and the second, 9 to 8. This double win gave Seattle six out of the seven games and puts them but five games behind the league leading Seals.

A crowd of approximately 12,000 fans saw Sutherland win the first game hands down, 8 to 4, but came to its feet for the second scrap, which went twelve innings before the Indians could nose out a one-run victory. Gregg turned in his ninth consecutive victory in the second game. The series has been marked by frequent fights between players and both clubs have been battling hard.

DURAY DETHRONES DEPALMA IN RACE

Ascot Favorite Loses Crown As Frenchman's Mount Proves Too Fast

Leon Duray, in a Miller equipped with a super-charger, proved to be too good for Ralph DePalma, weekly Ascot champion, yesterday, and was an easy winner in the Jack Doyle handicap, the classic of the day, and the one lap dash which permits him to wear the Ascot helmet until DePalma or some other driver beats him out of it.

Duray has always been a conspicuous driver at Ascot, but never until yesterday did he have a car that would compare with Ralph's 122 Miller. Both Duray and the Italian men were scratch men in the handicap and led the field at the end of the twelfth lap. Duray took the lead in the thirteenth and DePalma could not stay with him.

In winning the Jack Doyle handicap Duray established a new Ascot record for fifteen laps, being clocked in 8 min., 5 sec., or 7 seconds faster than it has ever been negotiated before.

Although some of the racers who have been performing at Ascot were over at Culver City, the afternoon provided good sport for a large crowd.

Mack Bennett's bathing girls staged a motorcycle race much in the delight of the crowd and Charlie Murray, the starter, took a long time to get them started. The Targio Florio for motorcycles was won by Hemingway.

The next races are scheduled for June 22, when the Jack Dempsey handicap will be the feature.

DOPE FROM DUGOUT

NEW YORK, June 9.—Lee Fohl, manager of the Boston Americans is conducting a triumphal tour of the west, meeting old friends who are proud to shake his hand, and leaving behind him a trail of baseball memories of might have been.

He has just been presented with a diamond ring in St. Louis, the city which he quit as a baseball manager last season, not altogether of his own volition. He also seized upon the opportunity to win for Boston a temporary leadership of the American League at the expense of the team he piloted last year. Thus poetic justice is served sometimes in baseball, as well as in the classics. Nothing could have been fitter than for him to take the league leadership at the hands of the club which last year turned him down just as he had got the outfit going.

When Fohl gets to Cleveland, they are to give him a "Fohl Day." There is another city in which he was unfortunate, they thought in Cleveland that he guessed poorly with his pitchers and it was the heritage of that opinion which followed him to St. Louis, where he was criticized for changing pitchers in a game against New York which had much to do with his pennant.

Second guessers have gone more to hurt Fohl's career than any other thing. He has been compelled to run a veritable obstale race because of the attacks that have been made upon his judgment. Yet cold facts show that he has always brought forward the team he has been permitted to coach.

As the Boston Americans stand now they must be reckoned with until they come to an awful flop. They have not exactly fought their way to the top of the league, because they have been in the neighborhood of the top all season. They are retaining their hold on the first division because they are good and because their pitchers are doing better than anyone expected they would. Also because they are hitting the ball hard when hits count.

Brooklyn has made a move that should help put it into the running as a National League pennant contender. It has acquired Brown, the big center-fielder of the Indianapolis club.

Brown was the best outfielder playing in any minor league team in Florida last spring and looked about as good as any fielder on any other team down here. Cincinnati set a trap for him but Brooklyn set a better one and Indianapolis finally has been prevailed to let him go, in exchange for Jones, a shortstop, and Bailey, an outfielder.

Jones played good ball in Portland last year. But he failed to report to Brooklyn on time, owing to a difference over whether or not he should get a big slice of the money Brooklyn paid for him. Consequently, he did not get into practice, did not round into form and did not get on the Brooklyn team. So it's back to the minors for him.

Brooklyn gets a hitter in Brown. He can't throw much, but he does not need to. He can cover as much ground as a three ring circus and is a sure catcher of fly balls.

WILLS ON TRIAL FOR FISTIC LIFE

Must Sock Now or Forever Hold His Peace; Meets Madden Tonight

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, June 9.—The martial villages in large and financially adequate number are preparing to sit in judgment on the fistic form of Harry Wills, perennial and eternal challenger for the world's heavyweight title. Harry will collaborate with one Bartley Madden in a 15-round bout at the Queensboro stadium tonight, weather permitting, and nothing less than a knockout of Madden will be deemed acceptable by the self-constituted jury. Wills must sock now or forever hold his peace.

A poor showing against Madden might very well cost Wills his scheduled romp with Firpo the furious and a subsequent chance at Dempsey. He will be on trial for his fistic life.

The test will be no cake walk either. Wills has not been out of the stable against a real fighter in two years and quite possibly will be ring rusty, just as Dempsey was against Tom Cribb, who was against Tom Cribb, who was against Tom Cribb.

Madden is known as a tough hunch, who can laugh off a punch with the best of them. He has never been knocked and according to local legend, he's never been off his feet. Wills could have picked easier game than Madden in his re-entry into the business of serious campaigning toward the title.

But Madden sticks. Betting around Broadway today was at even money that Madden would stick with the situation until the end. If he does, the tangled skeins of Harry Wills' championship problem will have assumed some few additional knots.

Some of the "wise money," however has gone down on Wills to win early. This was the result of a surreptitious tip that the thing was "in the bag."

Early weather indications were none too promising and the promoters who have seen the Wills-Madden bout kicked all over the premises for six months, sadly prepared for a postponement. Injuries to Wills' hand caused three delays during the winter season, and rain and the fire department which condemned the Queensboro stadium, only to return later, forced two more. It is hoped that fate will smile on the proceedings tonight, just for the sake of variety.

BUSINESS WORLD

By J. E. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 9.—Automobile manufacturers and automotive engineers at present seem divided into two camps over the effect which new models will have on the trade. A half dozen large makers or more are now changing over machinery to turn out the designs, and this will continue to have an effect on production for a time at least.

Some makers and designers hold that recent and prospective changes this summer in the car models are not of sufficient consequence to interfere with the intentions of prospective purchasers. These experts hold that the present day automobile has reached a point of reliability, safety and ease of operation where the industry now is "selling transportation" instead of selling a particular vehicle. This group is firm in refusing to add new features unless they have economy of transportation cost as an objective.

INVESTMENTS

By GEORGE T. HUGHES
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

Investment bankers are merchants who buy and sell the securities they handle. They are unlike brokers who for a commission execute an order to buy or sell something they do not own.

Many investment banking houses handle only bonds, a smaller number also handle preferred stocks and still a smaller number handle common and preferred stocks as well as bonds. Some of the larger houses do chiefly a wholesale business and distribute through local bankers who sell at retail to investors. Some investment companies originate issues and some simply sell issues originated by other houses.

When there is a large issue of state, municipal or other public bonds, such as soldier bonus or roads bonds, one house may not have enough capital or may not wish to tie its capital up in one huge issue. It therefore joins with several other houses in what is called a "syndicate," each house agreeing to take so many of the bonds if its bid is successful. Usually several of these "syndicates" are represented at a public bidding.

The same thing takes place when a large industry, railway or utility floats a bond issue. A "syndicate" is formed, both to combine resources of the different houses and to obtain wide distribution. Thus no one part of the capital is drained of investment from coast to coast and investors everywhere have the same opportunity to buy good securities.

A syndicate is nothing but a group of keen competitors going into temporary partnership. The syndicate selects a manager and is to exist for a certain duration. The bonds are to be offered at a certain time at a certain price. As soon as the bonds are offered these partners in the syndicate are out after customers, their own and everybody else's. It's clean competition, but the sharpest and the best kind of fighting.

These syndicates change so constantly and frequently and the competition within them is so sharp that, to any one knowing the truth, the popular hoax about "Wall street financial domination" is ridiculous. If a bond issue or group of houses tried to hold up or gouge any sound and justifiable financing, the enterprise seeking capital could go to a dozen other houses and another syndicate would be formed within a very short time to handle the issue. Look at the bond offerings advertised in any responsible paper and note that the larger issues frequently have the names of six or seven or more bond houses at the bottom of the advertisement. Note in other advertisements how these names change constantly, and you will quickly appreciate how keen and untrammeled competition in finance.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE APPLE SEEDS

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods one day, and as he hopped he nibbled at an apple which Nurse Jane had given him.

"This is a very good apple," said the rabbit gentleman to himself, as he took another bite. "I wish everyone had as fine an apple as this."

Mr. Longears looked up at the sun, he heard the wind rustling the leaves of the trees, and he smelled the perfume of flowers.

"This world is a very beautiful place," said the bunny. Then he took another bite of the apple, and then another bite, and so on, until nothing but the core and seeds were left. As Uncle Wiggily didn't care to eat the core and seeds, he threw them away. Along the woodland path bounced the apple core until, all of a sudden, a boy squirrel scrambled down out of a tree and ran after the apple core.

"Hello there, Johnnie Bushytail!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Don't be so anxious to get that apple—there's nothing left of it but the core and seeds. You can't eat them!"

The squirrel boy turned, and then Uncle Wiggily saw that it wasn't Johnnie Bushytail at all. It was a stranger—a new, hungry-looking squirrel chap.

"Excuse me," said the squirrel boy, "my name isn't Johnnie. But do you mind if I take that apple core?"

"Mind? Of course not!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "But why do you want an old apple core that I threw away?"

"There is still something good left on it to eat," answered the squirrel boy in a low voice. "And I can take it home to my mother and sister. They are very hungry and the apple seeds will be fine for them."

"Goodness me!" cried the rabbit gentleman in surprise, as the squirrel boy picked up the apple core. "You don't mean to tell me that your mother and sister are so hungry that you are glad to get apple seeds, are you?"

"Indeed we are," answered the squirrel boy. "We are very poor and very hungry. My father died and we had to move away from our fine house in the oak tree. There were many nuts stored away. But the wind that blew the tree down killed my father and scattered the nuts we were saving. Then my mother and sister and I came to these woods to live. But there are no nuts here and will be none until autumn, so we have to eat bark, buds and what few berries we can find. Apple seeds are almost as good as nuts. I'll take these home to my mother and sister if you don't mind."

"Of course I don't mind!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "And what is more, my little squirrel boy, I'll get you a lot more apple seeds!"

"Oh, how kind of you!" joyfully chattered the boy, whose name was Quirkier, because of the funny way he quirked his tail to one side.

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Show me where you live and I will soon bring you a lot of apple seeds to your home. Then I'll see my friends, Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, and get them to bring you some of their nuts, which they have stored away since last year."

"Oh, how kind of you!" chattered Quirkier.

He scampered on ahead and Uncle Wiggily, hopping after him, saw where the poor squirrel family lived. Then, hopping back to his hollow stump bungalow, Uncle

Kidnaper Is Forgiven

MRS. EVA MONDELL, mother of BABY CORINNE, forgives the child's kidnapper, MRS. MARY DE MARCO, after the baby was recovered and the situation explained to her.

Now that Mrs. Eva Mondell has her 10-week-old daughter, Corinne, back, there isn't much bitterness in her heart toward the babe's kidnapper, Mrs. Mary De Marco, who took the child from its carriage, she says, to "fool her husband." Mrs. Mondell was frantic until Philadelphia police traced and found Corinne in the home of Mrs. De Marco.

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Congress, many observers are stating, has reached a new low-water mark in political degradation. This opinion is based on the insistence of that body in passing money bills not included in the budget estimates—so-called "class and community legislation."

One congressman, however, holds a different and frankly startling view. He is Senator Henry P. Ashurst, Democrat, of Arizona.

Neither affirming nor denying the charge of "political degradation," Senator Ashurst holds the present situation to be nothing new.

"It exists; it always has existed, and it always will exist," he said.

"Tax reduction will come when a congressman goes home and is met at the station by his constituents, waving a $200,000 appropriation bill for which he voted and yelling 'You did wrong to vote for this; and we are going to tar and feather you and ride you out of town on a rail!' Until that time arrives congressmen will continue to vote for appropriation bills and get re-elected for so doing."

The pork barrel, despite all that has been done of late to dismantle it, is with the nation, stay, Ashurst believes, and he further thinks, such is the case because the people want it—at least so far as their particular desires are involved.

"The wisest politicians tell us never to vote against an appropriation bill," he said. "If my people write and wire me to vote for more money to kill prairie dogs in Arizona, I have to do it, as their representative. If I should tell them that this expenditure will retard tax reduction and interfere with economy in government, they would not appreciate my logic, and they probably would tell me so at the polls."

Ashurst estimated that real economy in every branch of the government practiced, with the aid and approbation of Congress, would bring about a reduction in national expenditures approaching a billion dollars.

Departing from the practice of Congress of "spending the other fellow's money, the only thing Congress can do easily," Ashurst paid his respects to certain spendthrift habits prevalent in the executive branch of the government. "Junketeering" was his topic.

"Tourists have trouble in getting steamship accommodations for Europe nowadays," he said, "because every boat going out is filled with government agents on special missions. Of course, the United States has a magnificent consular service covering the entire world for the express purpose of collecting and distributing information for Americans and their government, but special agents seem to be quite necessary. 'Take any train from Washington to the Pacific coast. If, before you reach your destination, you do not run into from three to five agents of the government going off on some fool trip that a telegram or a letter probably would render unnecessary, the trip is on me.'"

"It's a great game, and everybody seems to be playing it, regardless of which end of Pennsylvania avenue they happen to have their offices. And the curious thing is that they come back each year as the people's choice."

Timely Views

"U. S. FARMERS HAVE BETTER SHIPPING FACILITIES THAN EUROPEANS," SAYS BARNES.

"American producers of grain and other commodities, although twice as far from the seaboard as the most remote interior cities of Europe, are able to ship more expeditiously to world markets than are the farmers of Europe," so says Julius Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

And as against the early railroad cars which consumed 65 per cent of their own weight in haulage, leaving 35 per cent for cargo, he pointed out that new cars use only 20 per cent as dead weight.

"Efficient production," he said, "has led to unemployment. It has not contributed to idleness. On the contrary, the earning power of the American people in 1920 was only $12,000,000,000, as contrasted with the 1920 earning power of $67,000,000,000. And this material prosperity is the basis on which are built the institutions which today give every man an innumerable advantages, such as electric lights, municipal parks, paved streets and schools."

This prosperity has changed the conditions existing fifty years ago, and today children are sent to schools instead of to factories.

With only 6 per cent of the world's population, he pointed out, this country has one-half of the world's railway mileage; three-quarters of the world's telephone mileage and 50 per cent of the world's newspaper. This latter fact, he said, is the best guarantee the country has for the preservation of its institutions which have been developed by the rest on three great American philosophies; that of utilizing its material resources to serve humankind; that no door should be closed by accident of birth, or social position on any man striving to get ahead and that the government should preserve fairness of competition and give to every man an equal and unhampered opportunity to succeed.

The need for a non-partisan organization to collect facts, uncolored by propaganda or ulterior motives and to present such facts to the American public, was emphasized by Barnes.

"It is distressing to observe in Washington that a small group of Radicals now holds the balance of power in national legislation, while the same elements of the two great political parties are opposed one against the other and are consequently powerless to pass constructive legislation. But this condition cannot endure if the newspapers of the country get the facts and pass them on to the American public, for public opinion will serve as the corrective."

"What we need today is an organization, or organizations, to get the facts to present them to the people, thus enabling the people to form correct judgments and to cause them to put sane men in power in legislative offices. In this way we can preserve the great development and prosperity of the American nation. And every organization should contribute to this service."

There were 150 interested citizens in attendance at the water mass meeting last night when a resolution submitted by Mr. Guthrie, against accepting the price for the water systems as fixed by the State Railroad commission and favoring the water companies to put their respective plants in such condition that service will be improved, was defeated after two hours' discussion. The final action was favoring the City Trustees' calling a bond election for securing money with which to purchase the water systems.

SESSION BARREN OF RESULTS AS CONGRESS QUILTS

Failure of G. O. P. Leaders to Control Party Blamed for Poor Showing

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale
Evening News, Copyright, 1924
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Congress winds up the most extraordinary session of a generation without even the joy of self-satisfaction, let alone the plaudits of an approving electorate.
To judge fairly what has been done requires an understanding of the almost insurmountable obstacle presented at the outset—namely, the inability of the Republican party to function as a majority because of Western insurgency and radicalism. To those who thought absolutely nothing would be accomplished, not even tax revision, the record is a pleasant surprise. To those who have become accustomed to a fair amount of new legislation and a showing, at least, on major issues such as agricultural relief, the session is an out and out failure.

What Congress has done amounts to little compared to what might have been done had the Republican leadership been able to control its party membership in both Houses.

Farm Relief Fails
First of all, Congress adjourns without passing any of the agricultural bills. The McNary-Haugen Bill was beaten in the House and lost in the Senate jam.
The Norbeck-Burness Bill, sponsored by Mr. Coolidge, was defeated in the Senate. Even the more or less innocuous bills to co-ordinate the activity of the cooperative societies and organizations, fell by the wayside. This gives the radicals their main talking point—Congress has not acted affirmatively for the farmer.

One measure alone—the Smith-Hope resolution—is looked upon by the administration leaders as an answer to the cry of the farmer in Congress. It is declaratory and sets forth that freight rates are too high and that the Interstate Commerce Commission should reduce the rates on farm commodities. This is not mandatory. It is simply Congressional opinion. The Interstate Commerce Commission has a number of undecided cases involving farm products. Confronted as it is with the provision of the transportation act which requires that the railroads be permitted to earn a five and a half per cent return on their investment, the commission is held within limits and cannot reduce rates to a point which is unprofitable to the railroads.
So some of the sponsors of the Smith-Hope resolution think a readjustment can be made whereby the rates on other products are raised and the rates on farm products reduced. That's the real hope back of the resolution.

As for railway legislation, a score of bills providing for a return to the states of certain rate-making powers failed to get to first base in this session and the much-mooted earning clause of the transportation act which the Westerners wanted repeated was not even reported from committee. So the agricultural group suffered a real defeat which is making the conservatives happy.
Indeed, the number of bills that were prevented from passing by conservative influence, is amazingly large and to that extent the sins of commission are regarded as virtues by the interests most affected by the threats of drastic change.

Congress did revise the tax law.
Some members openly feared to attempt revision because of the flood of radical amendments anticipated, but the law is an improvement over the old and the way is paved for correction of defects at the December session.

The granting of the bonus is a political achievement in which President Coolidge does not share but it does represent the answer to a demand from one large element in the electorate.
The immigration bill is another.
Naturally the ill-will engendered in Japan is regretted even in Congress but both Houses were determined to do by law what they felt was unquestioned right and the administration now is trying to make the best of the situation by expressions of sorrow to Japan.
No treaty will be attempted for the present and the hope is that time will heal the sores of ill-feeling.

Perhaps the most important action of Congress, viewed from the political angle, is that it adjourned in time for the two conventions. The Republican majority failed to support the leadership of President Coolidge on several important issues and the insurgents were preparing to continue in coalition with the Democrats the tactics of embarrassment. The opponents of the administration will use the early adjournment as proof of the failure of Congress and will attempt to provoke a resentment vote. The McNary-Haugen Bill, for instance, was not loved by some of its champions but on the stump there will be many gestures of deep feeling that it was not passed. The adjournment and lack of activity furnish many talking points just as the breaks with President Coolidge accentuate an incapacity in government which the "outs" are always anxious to pin on the "ins." The scenes of the wind-up are tame—there is no hope of getting any big measures passed.
Even the report on the world court slumbers in the Senate with no chance of action until December when the fight will be reopened. Congress has postponed

SCOTS' MARTYRS FURNISH FUN AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Pyramid No. 39 Celebrates Its First Anniversary In Parade, Initiation

Pursued by the wildest bunch of cannibals that ever left the Fiji Islands, 100 writhing, wriggling, squirming pieces of Raw Meat marched to their doom in the spectacular parade staged by the Glendale Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Order of Scots, as part of their birthday celebration Saturday night. Approximately 2000 people took part in the procession, including the unlucky candidates for initiation, the members of the Glendale pyramid and several hundred visiting Scots from Los Angeles and other neighboring cities.

The feature of the parade was the "Raw Meat Section" in which the 100 candidates were placed on public exhibition for the final time before the slaughter. Led by Chief Cannibal Paul Maxwell, the Raw Meat was lined up along a 100 yard rope, by means of which they were required to pull two of their miserable brothers who had been confined to the bear cage for misconduct.

Coffins for Victims
Twelve of the "croccodile fodder" were forced to carry the coffins in which the bodies of the less hardy victims were to be placed after the ceremony. Three more were locked in a cage with a lowly burro and proclaimed to the world as "Three of a Kind." Two others were having difficulty in handling a wayward goat with a hug and business-like pair of horns. Following this miserable lot of humanity was an ambulance with its significance emphasized constantly by the antics of the hungry savages.

Urged to greater efforts by D.
Ripley Jackson, organizer of this band, the cannibals were unmercifful in their treatment of the luck-less hundred. Armed with a modern piece of artillery they took shots promiscuously at the spectators and participants without damaging effects.

The parade started promptly at 7 o'clock from the intersection of California avenue and Brand boulevard, with Toparch H. M.
Bennett and the officers of the Glendale pyramid leading. They were followed by the Boy Scout troop No. 11, sponsored by the Glendale Scots, and the Glendale pyramid band, led by Drum Major J. D. Frazier.

The officers of the Los Angeles pyramid No. 30 rode in open cars, wearing the elaborate robes to be used in the initiating ceremonies.
Following the Raw Meat section came the Los Angeles pyramid band of twenty-eight pieces and the Libyan Guards in costume.
The huge delegation from the Los Angeles pyramid marching as a body was followed by the famous Tom-Tom band in gaudy attire.
This bunch made up in enthusiasm for their lack of harmony.

The delegates from the other pyramids present for the celebration made up the final division.
The parade proceeded down Brand boulevard to Colorado before a large and appreciative crowd, and counter-marched back up Brand boulevard to the tent which had been erected at the corner of California avenue.

Moans of Sufferers

Here the Raw Meat section was disassembled and herded into the tent where the slaughter was to take place. The Boy Scout troop was presented with the colors by the officers of the Glendale pyramid just before the ceremony.
Soon after the last delegate had entered the parted flaps, the cries and moans of the victims began to fall upon the ears of chance passers by, with pitiful regularity.

After the ceremonies were completed by the Los Angeles pyramid, an elaborate entertainment was staged by Scot Keamoku A.
Louis, which took the form of an "Egyptian Evening." Music by the Glendale band, and stunts by local Scots made up the remainder of the program.

State Gas Exports Reach Huge Figure

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Exports of gasoline from California reach approximately 180,000,000 gallons a year, according to gasoline tax figures issued by M. D.
Leck, secretary of the State Board of Equalization.

During the past six months 89-115,703 gallons of gasoline was shipped out of the state, it is indicated by the board's investigation.

Exported gasoline is exempt from the state tax of 2 cents per gallon as it is not used on state highways.

Walking around the "black stone" of the Kaaba seven times and kissing it, then visiting the graves of Ishmael and Hagar and a visit to Ararat to perform religious rites, comprise the ceremonies performed by worshippers on their pilgrimage to Mecca.

'UNKISSSED BRIDE' PROVES BIG TREAT

Farce Offered by Murphy's Comedians This Week
Full of Laughs

"The Unkissed Bride," which opened last night at the big tent on Stocker street between North Brand boulevard and Central avenue, Casa Verdugo, proved to be as funny as any offering Murphy's Comedians have yet staged.

Taking for its essential situation one of those matrimonial kinks that always make such good comedy, the play progresses through a culminating sequence of hilarious incidents that ends in a riot of fun. And there is not one situation in the play that could possibly be offensive to anyone, children enjoying the play as much as grownups, because of its uproarious comedy.

"The Unkissed Bride" will show nightly at 8:15 o'clock, for the balance of the week. The tent will be open at 7:15 o'clock, so that all who wish especially good seats may come early and be sure of getting them.

Choral Club to Hold Rehearsal Tonight

The weekly rehearsal of the Glendale Choral club is to be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight at the Harvard High school. J. F. Harvey will direct the work on
"The Rose Maiden" (Collins).
During intermission there will be special entertainment.
